Leading U.S. Tire Companies Charged

Rescued In Hotel Fire

Fireman Walter Weiman almost loses his grip on Mrs. Tela Zafer as he carries her down a ladder from the burning Clark Hotel in San Francisco. Firemen made a dozen spectacular rescues from the third floor of the hotel, but only three persons were actually injured. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

Neal Announces C.P.R. Program Of $300,000,000 Expansion

The C.P.R.'s reconstruction program for the Dominion of Canada calls for an expenditure of $300,000,000, W. M. Neal, president of the corporation, told 57 guests today at a civic luncheon in the Empress Hotel, prior to embarking on the boat for his return to eastern Canada.

He said that already the company had started its rehabilitation program for the postwar period and the money allocated was being used up "almost as fast as the British loan in the United States."

The money is to be spent on projects detailed before the House of Commons reconstruction committee, including new steamship services, bringing rolling stocks up-to-date, such as the dieselization of the E. & N., and improving hotel and ticket office facilities.

Urge Passengers Fly Backwards

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's air safety board wants "intensive study" to be given the idea of having all airline passengers ride backwards.

In its fifth report since a series of crashes in May and June led to its creation, the special panel observed that "on the surface it seems much can be said for facing seats toward the rear of planes.

Among other points of the report the board proposed that by Next July 1 all pilots and copilots be required to wear shoulder harnesses as an extra precaution in event of crashes.

The shoulder harness and the backwards-riding would both be aimed at combatting the same hazard — injuries from being thrown violently forward when a plane has an accident.

Secret Honeymoon For Irish Beauty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ireland's beauty queen and her Canadian sailor husband whom she traveled half way around the world to wed, today were on a secret honeymoon.

Jeanette McFetridge was married to her wartime sweetheart, Arthur C. Siddall, here Saturday in a double-ring ceremony and later left for a honeymoon at a secret spot known only to themselves and a few intimate friends.

The bride came here two weeks ago from her Belfast home, ending a three-year-wait for her wedding day.

Signs Of Early Winter Perceived

VANCOUVER (CP)—The hunters and trappers of the north country had signs of an early winter today—snow.

At Beatton River, 900 miles northeast of here, light snow has fallen continuously since late Sunday night, and at Fort Nelson rain changed to snow during the morning.

Temperatures fell to freezing at most northern British Columbia points, with Smith River registering an overnight low of 26.

The cold air mass was moving southward, with cloudy and showery weather forecast for Tuesday.

Final Test Match

LONDON (Reuter)—England's last four wickets in the fifth and final test match at Kennington Oval this morning added 116 runs in 85 minutes. The innings closed for 427, leaving South Africa just short of half an hour's batting before lunch.

Godfrey Evans and Cliff Gladwin were the heavy scorers for England, the former reaching 45 before being run out, while Gladwin was unbeaten at 51.

At lunch, South Africa had scored 19 runs without loss of a wicket.

Baby Suffocated

Saanich police reported today that the two-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, 943 Stafford Street, died from suffocation in its crib early this morning.

The baby, suffering from a cold, was found by Mrs. Smith dead at 7.30, according to police, who said the baby must have died some three hours earlier. It was found lying on its face.

St. Louis Trails By 5 1-2 Games As 'Crucial' Starts

EBBETT'S FIELD, N.Y. — Brooklyn Dodgers put the St. Louis Cardinals squarely on the spot this afternoon when they took the opener of a four-game series that will most likely decide the National League pennant. The score was 7 to 5.

Four and a half games down as they went into the series today, it was figured the Cardinals needed at least three of the four tilts to stay up on the pace with the unpredictable Dodgers. This afternoon's loss, with their "money" pitcher Pollet on the mound has erected what may well turn out to be an unsurmountable barrier to their hopes of making the Pennant and the World Series a two-in-a-row performance.

A capacity crowd of 32,781 cheered the winners on to victory. Second game of the series is scheduled under the floodlights tonight.

St. Louis	5	8	0

Batteries — Pollet, Burkhart, (5), Wilks (7) and Rice, Wilber (7); Lombardi, Casey (9) and Edwards.

3 Men Trapped In B.C. Mine

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trapped in a drift in the Pacific Eastern Mine following an explosion, three men were sought by rescue workers today.

The men, V. Wright, driller, of Vancouver; A. Gillis and J. Ryan, went down to the shaft to move diamond drilling equipment preparatory to the closing of the mine.

The explosion, believed to have been caused by gas, roared through the 4,000-foot drift shortly before 8.30 a.m.

New Ticket Office For C.P.R. In City

A new C.P.R. ticket office is in the more immediate program of company expansion, W. W. Neal, company president, told guests at the civic luncheon tendered the directors today.

Mr. Neal said the present office had been adequate when it was built, but with the steady growth and modernization of Victoria, the directors felt the present ticket-selling facilities were completely inadequate.

He did not say how much the company was prepared to spend on the new office, or give any date for the start of its construction.

Careful, Mister!

Nazis In British Zone Classified

BERLIN (CP) — All German Nazis interned in the British zone will be discharged or classified for denazification by Oct. 1, if by that date they have not been required by an Allied country for war crimes charges, British authorities announced today.

The decision has been made to speed up the clearance from internment camps and war crimes holding centres.

The announcement came 24 hours after the publication of a Soviet decision ordering a differentiation in treatment between "little Nazis" in the Soviet zone, who in future will have full voting and electoral rights, and war criminals and militarists, to be brought speedily before the courts.

The Soviet announcement was made by Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky during the week-end.

The action, similar to steps taken previously in the U.S. zone, grants the right to vote and to hold office to all Germans in the Soviet zone who formerly had been nominal members of the Nazi party but had not committed "crimes against the peace and security of the people of Germany or other nations."

Gen. Crossman Dies

BERWICK-ON-TWEED, Eng. —(CP)—The death of Maj.-Gen. Francis Lindisfarne Morley Crossman, 59, was announced today. An army officer since 1907, he became a general in 1939 and retired in 1942.

10 Individuals Also Accused Of Fixing Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Clark today announced he has filed a criminal information against eight manufacturers of automobile tires, a tire manufacturers' trade association and 10 individuals charging agreements to fix prices of tires and tubes.

Clark said the information was filed under the anti-trust laws in federal district court for the southern district of New York.

A Justice Department announcement of the action listed these defendants:

L. A. McQueen, General Tire vice-president.

J. J. Newman, Goodrich vice-president.

R. S. Wilson, Goodyear vice-president.

A. L. Ves, president of the Rubber Manufacturers Association.

George Flint, the association's assistant secretary.

Mysterious Flight Ends In Crash

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —A chartered plane on a mysterious flight possibly involving the Paraguayan civil war crashed into the sea off Montevideo late Friday night, it was reported today. Seven persons were reported missing.

Three of those aboard were rescued by a tug which sped to the scene from Montevideo. Officials said the three were Kenneth Dineen, a crew member; a retired Uruguayan army major named Alcides Perdomo and an unidentified Paraguayan. All were injured.

Perdomo told reporters the plane was a 32-passenger Sikorsky on a test flight, carrying a crew of five and five passengers.

Slow Poisoning Of Hitler Hinted By Man On Trial

NUERNBERG (AP)—The record of an interrogation of a German doctor on trial for his life has disclosed a hint that Hitler may have been poisoned by slow degrees in the last years of his life.

The document is in the files of prosecutors who tried 23 Nazi S.S. doctors for inhuman experimentation.

It is a long-winded Nazi-inspired statement by Dr. Karl Brandt, hawk-nosed S.S. man who was the Fuehrer's personal physician for a time and had entree to his circle of intimates.

It tells how Hitler surrounded himself with various women besides Eva Braun, and nightly "held court" like something out of the Arabian Nights.

Brandt described sundry women who had the run of Hitler's Obersalzburg chalet above Berchtesgaden and then casually commented:

"Hitler began to suffer more and more from intestinal troubles. The diet assistant, a half-Jewess who had been sent by Field Marshal Antonescu (Iron Guard dictator of Romania) had to be replaced."

Brandt doesn't himself know if there was any connection, but U.S. lawyers expressed astonishment that Hitler, the greatest Jew hater of all time, should trust a part Jew to prepare his food.

NEW EXPERT

The doctor said that a "Miss Martiall" was engaged as diet expert.

"There was scarcely a day when Hitler did not stress the surprises prepared for him by Miss Martiall."

But Hitler wasn't quite as naive as Brandt, apparently, for:

"Hitler, who nearly always had taken his meals alone, invited Miss Martiall to his meals, pointing out she ought to taste herself of the dishes she prepared."

"That went so far that even in Berlin Miss Braun had to recede and take her meals alone while Hitler took his lunch or supper together with Miss Martiall."

The doctor said this led to tension between the Fuehrer and his mistress, but never quite to an open break.

Polio Cases Up 10 In B.C. For Week-end

The Provincial Health Department this afternoon reported 10 more cases of poliomyelitis had been recorded in the Greater Vancouver area bringing the provincial total for this year to date to 142.

One more death was also recorded during the week-end, bringing the number of deaths to five. The latest fatality occurred at Nakusp, the patient having been taken to hospital there from Edgewood.

Victorians Feature Vancouver Parade

Final arrangements for the monster parade, inaugurating the Pacific National Exhibition next Monday are now complete.

Prominent in the parade will be Allan Jones, the famous movie, concert and radio artist, with "Miss P.N.E." the drum majorette.

The trick riders of the Victoria Motorcycle Club will ride ahead and thrill the public with a display of motor cycle acrobatics.

All the armed services will be represented.

Sixty-five gaily decorated floats and 18 bands will parade under the direction of Junior Board of Trade marshals and Chief Constable Walter Mulligan, parade marshal.

Victoria is sending, in addition to motorcyclists, her May Queen and princesses.

Farmers' Convention Planned For Kelowna

Members of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture and farmers throughout the province will be welcome to attend the meeting of directors of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to be held in Kelowna Sept. 24, it was announced today by C. A. Hayden, secretary-treasurer of the B.C.F.A.

Brentwood College Destroyed In Spectacular Blaze; $50,000 Chapel Saved By Firefighters

Firemen today began investigating the cause of fire which Saturday night destroyed Brentwood College on Saanich Arm, one of the best-known boys' private schools in Canada, and which threatened to envelope the adjoining Saanich Inlet summer colony.

No lives were lost and no one injured in the blaze which destroyed the main school building, with the exception of one small classroom block.

The loss of the building runs into six figures.

Firemen have not yet determined the cause of the fire. Flames broke out on the fourth floor and spread rapidly along the roof and through the dormitories.

Deputy Fire Chief F. B. Miller said lack of water prevented firemen from extinguishing the blaze which threatened for a time several nearby homes and forest areas.

The beautiful $50,000 Anglican chapel, overlooking Saanich Inlet was saved, but only after firemen sprayed the building with water to keep it from bursting into flames. The heat was so intense that the roof of the chapel steamed.

Two masters' houses, a boathouse and squash court were untouched by the fire.

The Saanich fire department was informed of the fire at 11.25 Saturday night and dispatched to the scene all available fire equipment. When they reached the fire it had gained headway on the roof of the school.

Flames shot skyward illuminating the whole sky for miles around.

Firemen said the roof, two stop storys and the east wing were burning when they arrived. Lines were laid out from two hydrants, while two more lines were laid out from the B.C. Electric power plant situated near the college.

POOR WATER SUPPLY

Firemen began to make headway and believe they might have extinguished the blaze if the water supply had not started to dwindle.

Families living in the college were evacuated without mishap while a considerable amount of furniture was removed from the burning building. The documents and files of the school were saved.

According to Headmaster W. K. Molson, B.A., one of the tenants woke up at the sound of crackling above his head, and on investigation found the floor above in flames.

STAFF, FAMILIES ESCAPE

Members of the teaching staff and their families, who escaped the fire, were Mr. and Mrs. P. Wilkinson and daughter, Percia; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Colchester and daughter, Janet; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Grange. Other tenants in the building were Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Ripley, Mr. Smalley, Neil MacDonald, Alfred Bodinger and Bill Hill.

As the water supply began to give out, firemen gave up hope of saving the building and concentrated on preventing the blaze from spreading to adjoining buildings and the chapel.

Trees in the vicinity caught fire and threatened to spread to adjoining forest areas and endanger nearby private homes. Neighborhood volunteers helped firemen to fight the blaze and rescued some valuable school records. Some of the furniture was saved.

At 3.30 Sunday morning all that remained of the college was smoldering ashes. The fire had swept completely through the building, destroying the gymnasium, a large laboratory 40 feet in length and equipped to provide individual work in physics and chemistry.

Also destroyed was the modern kitchen with its extensive refrigeration facilities on the main floor. The library, dispensary, and more than a score of spacious classrooms also went.

FOUNDED IN 1923

Brentwood College was founded on March 23, 1923, by a group of leading Victoria professional and business men. Original members of the governing board were D. J. Angus, Lindley Crease, K.C., P. F. Curtis, H. Cuthbert Holmes, Dr. W. E. Scott-Moncrieff, E. Williams and Norman A. Yarrow.

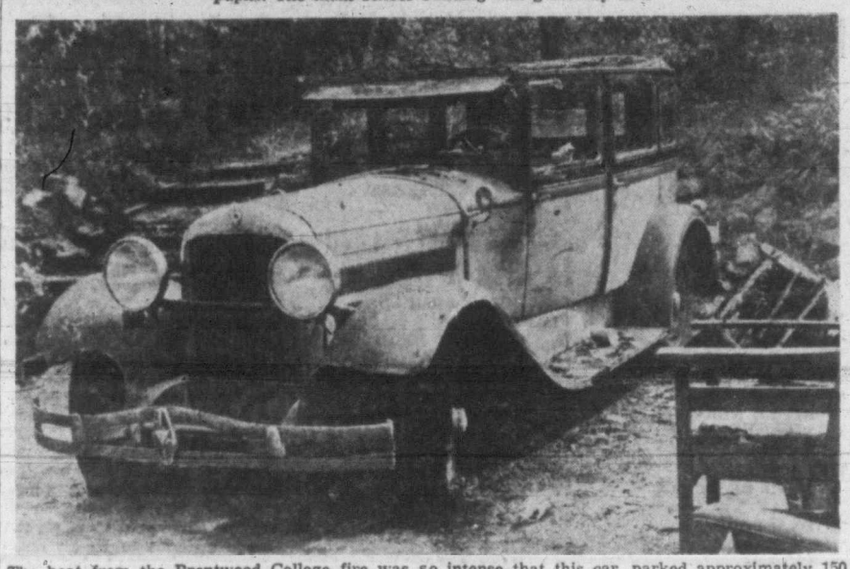
The school was situated on more than 60 acres of land, about 14 miles from Victoria. The school, which overlooked Saanich Inlet, provided accommodations for some 80 boys on two dormitory floors.

The college was originally known as Brentwood Hotel, built in 1914, before it was converted into a private school. The school within a few years drew pupils from the Far East, the United States as well as eastern Canada.

Students ranging in age from 12 to 18 were prepared for entrance to all Canadian, United States and British universities, as well as to the Royal Canadian Naval College, and gained renown as athletes, particularly in track, sailing and rowing.

Its educational system was patterned on British public schools. It was an Anglican institution. But provision was made for boys of other denominations to attend the school and to attend services of their own churches.

Among the buildings saved from the fire which destroyed Brentwood College, overlooking Saanich Inlet, Saturday was the beautiful $50,000 Anglican chapel, shown in the background. The chapel was built entirely by private donations and practically all the work was undertaken by the college pupils. The main school building was gutted by fire.



The heat from the Brentwood College fire was so intense that this car, parked approximately 150 feet from the blaze, caught fire. The roof, one tire, and upholstery were burned before firemen sprayed the vehicle with water.

Ontario Scoured For Trio Of 'Dangerous' Convicts

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Three long-term criminals, described as "the most dangerous prisoners" in the Portsmouth Penitentiary here, made their escape from the huge prison in the early morning hours and are still at large, police said.

Foremost of the three is the notorious Donald (Mickey) MacDonald, 40-year-old Torontonian. The other two are Ulysses Lauzon, 23, of Windsor, Ont., and Nicholas Minnelli of Ottawa.

Penitentiary officials said the trio sawed through the bars of their cells, indicating they had outside aid. Police throughout the province immediately were given descriptions of the trio as an Ontario-wide search got under way.

Police believe accomplices waited outside the penitentiary in an automobile with a change of clothes for the prisoners. A car stolen in Kingston several hours before the break is believed to have been used by the trio and their helpers.

MacDonald was serving a 15-year sentence for high-jacking consecutive with a 2½-year sentence for assault.

Lauzon was serving the longest sentence—36 years for three bank robberies and a jail-break at Kitchener. He was convicted in November, 1945. He is 23 years of age.

Minnelli was sentenced to a total of 17 years with 10 strokes of the lash when charged with armed robbery and kidnapping last September. With Henry Ceretti, Minelli held up a brewer's retail store and escaped with a large sum of cash. After hiding out, they hired a taxi to go elsewhere and when the cab driver became suspicious the pair tried to kidnap him. The driver escaped when the car stopped at a red light.

MacDonald's current sentences were started in 1944. Before he was sentenced to 15 years, he was given the 2½-year sentence for assaulting the 88-year-old doorman of a Toronto hotel. In December of that year, MacDonald, his brother, Edwin, and two companions were found guilty of armed robbery of a $35,000 liquor truck and its load and of kidnapping the driver.

MacDonald, a 40-year-old stockily-built man, had at one time been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of James Windsor, Toronto bookmaker, in January, 1939. MacDonald appealed the sentence and on retrial was freed after a 15-day sitting.

The jury that acquitted MacDonald deliberated for 8½ hours and explained there was "reasonable doubt" that he had been the murderer.

MacDonald appealed the 15-year-sentence twice. After the Ontario Court of Appeal had allowed his protest, a jury found him guilty of the high-jacking. The Supreme Court of Canada then turned down his appeal against the sentence in December, 1946.

Discuss Plans For Rebuilding College

Directors of Brentwood College, which was wiped out by fire Saturday night, this morning met to discuss the possibility of rebuilding the school. Other buildings have been offered for use as a temporary school. The above picture shows the charred remnants of Brentwood College, with only the gaunt chimneys standing. (See page 2 for fire story.)

Duncan Man Locked In City Drug Store

George Pourier of Duncan, isn't the kind of person who likes to browse around and look at displays inside drug stores. However, he was given ample opportunity to do so Sunday when he found himself locked inside the Cunningham Drug Store, Yates and Douglas Street.

Pourier went into the store just before closing time to make a telephone call. He was inside the phone booth for some time and when he came out he found the store empty and the doors locked.

Pourier returned to the booth, put through a call to the city police and asked that he be released. Police notified store manager B. Gough and in time, the up-island man was given his freedom.

3 Hours Clinging To Overturned Boat

Royal Jubilee Hospital authorities reported today that Earl Morrison, Mt. Edward Apartments, and Donald Elworthy, 660 Cook Street, are recovering from the shock and cold after three hours in the cold waters off Sidney Island, Sunday, clinging to their overturned sailboat. The hospital expects the youths will be released today.

The small sailboat, in which Morrison and Elworthy were fishing, was overturned by a sudden gust of wind. The youths managed to hold onto the craft for three hours while it was driven toward San Juan Islands by strong currents.

Numbed with cold the pair were rescued by the tug Island Mariner, formerly operated by the tugboat company of which Elworthy's father, H. B. Elworthy, was head.

Diesel-Electric Locomotives For E. & N. Railway

Vancouver Island's E. and N. Railway will have the first large operating section in Canada completely equipped with diesel-electric locomotives, it was announced here today by William M. Neal, O.B.E., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The new plan will cost the company $1,704,000 and is expected to be in full operation by the end of 1948, Mr. Neal said.

Orders will be placed for the new engines at the beginning of 1948, and the present steam engines, now operating on the 209.5 miles of E. and N. track on the island, will be replaced as the orders are filled. Company officials believe the complete switchover can be made within the year.

An intensive study of the situation has been made by the company for some months past and it has been determined that, for a number of reasons, diesel electric would be best on the island.

Among the advantages is the availablity of diesel-electric. It is ready year in and year out nearly 24 hours a day, whereas the steam engine's availablity is somewhat less owing to the need for refueling and watering, and the need for its fires to be lit as much as an hour ahead of time.

REDUCES FIRE HAZARD

Use of diesel-electric also reduces even more the possibility of fire hazard . . . an important consideration in a country like the island where timber resources play so vital a part in the economic life.

There is also the advantage that, because of their availability, only 13 diesel-electric engines will be needed to replace the present 18 steam units.

The 1,000 h.p. diesel-electric engines are also expected to give an improved service on the island. So far as freight trains are concerned, coal and watering stops will be eliminated, allowing the company to condense the schedule. Study will be given to the passenger schedules to see if these too cannot be condensed to give a faster service.

There will be no disruption of present staff on the E. and N. owing to the switchover.

Although the new island plan will make no difference to the new diesel-electric service proposed for the mainland, it is more extensive in its scope. It is not limited to switching operations and will cover the entire operations on the island line.

It is anticipated the operation of the new plan here will be closely watched by the company with a view to its adoption in other large areas throughout the Dominion.

Hope To Resume Classes At Brentwood By Sept. 10

The governing board of directors met today to consider the reopening this fall of Brentwood College, which was destroyed by fire Saturday night.

No decision has yet been made to rebuild the school by the members of the board who are more deeply concerned for the moment with the reopening of the college for the Michaelmas term scheduled to start Sept. 10.

Offers of accommodations to enable the school to open in September have been made from various quarters. These are now being considered by the board and an early decision is expected. Parents will be advised as soon as possible if the school will open this fall.

Several college old boys have offered their help as well as temporary accommodation for some 80 or more pupils who attend the college every year.

Members of the board met at the Pacific Club today. They include E. A. M. Williams, chairman, James Angus, Capt. J. M. Grant, Logan Mayhew, Air Vice-Marshal K. G. Nairn, C.B., Dr. R. Scott-Moncrieff, and Cuthbert Holmes, secretary.

WELCOME VISITORS

ALTHOUGH MR. W. M. NEAL, PRESIDENT of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, is far from a stranger in this capital city, his visit which came to an end this afternoon was his first since his elevation to the highly-important position he now holds. Judged by the various functions which he and his fellow directors have attended since their arrival on Saturday morning, it is safe to assume that many aspects of the great transportation system's relationship with Victoria—plus this community's hopes for the future—came in for exhaustive discussion. And it can be said without the slightest hesitation that the distinguished executives who came west with Mr. Neal were keen and pointed in their questions. Victorians will hope, incidentally, that the president will find it convenient and agreeable to come out to the coast more frequently than has been the wont of his predecessors. His ease of manner and his inherent friendliness won for him a legion of friends in his former role as vice-president. And the fact that he likes people guards him against the suggestion of aloofness—sometimes considered the essential armor of the high executive.

One thought has occurred to many prominent Victorians in recent days. It is the increasing difficulty which the community's largest hotel is experiencing in catering to the ever-growing tourist business. We do not suppose that ever before in the history of the Empress Hotel has the demand for accommodation been so consistently great as during the last few years. What is true of this world-renowned caravansary is true of all the other well-appointed establishments of the district. The fact of the matter is, of course, that Vancouver Island—particularly this part of it—has become so well known for its scenic and climatic attractions that holiday travel has exceeded all the expectations of publicity bureaus. And Victoria is bound to grow in popularity as the Canadian Pacific Railway introduces its new and palatial coastwise steamers in the near future. It is not for us, on the other hand, to suggest what the company should do in anticipation of this obviously assured business. Doubtless Mr. Neal and his colleagues have absorbed some of the views on this question to which they have listened during the week-end.

A SERIOUS LOSS

THE RECORD OF BRENTWOOD COLlege during the approximate quarter century of its existence above the shores of Saanich Inlet had made the institution an important element in British Columbia's educational life. From its halls had gone many young men to posts of distinction throughout the continent and in its school rooms and on its playing fields had been built sturdy characters that had exemplified the ideals of self-discipline, high intellectual attainment and physical fitness—the cardinal objectives of this centre of learning.

The fire which destroyed the main building early Sunday morning has robbed the lower island of an important factor in boarding school life. As this was being written, plans for reconstruction of the razed structure were not known. It was assumed that no effort would be spared to speed replacement. Under existing building conditions, however, that task will be fraught with difficulties. At all events, the coming term, scheduled to open September 9, will be disrupted. The fact that ancillary buildings, including the chapel, remain, will unquestionably spur the directors to action.

It is fortunate, however, that no classes were in session when the blaze occurred. Loss of life and injury to boys has been avoided. The very substantial destruction incurred in rooms, sleeping quarters and equipment is not minimized. But the spirit that is Brentwood College should prove equal to the task of rehabilitation. Those who have benefited from training at the institution, as well as those who have given it support in previous years, can be expected to rally to the call for help. From hand to hand the challenge is again passed on behalf of a school that has proved its values.

TRYING AGAIN

THE UNITED STATES IS MAKING A determined attempt to terminate the stalemates which have marked many of the proposed joint undertakings of the Big Four nations. The frustration and dead-end negotiations which have resulted from efforts to complete the German peace treaty, the Austrian peace treaty, the Hungarian treaty, the unification of the German economy, the settlement of the Balkan trouble, and other international problems, provide all-too-familiar examples of this nature.

In the present instance, the United States State Department has issued a sharp "put up or shut up" message to the Soviet in connection with the Korean settlement, which has been hanging fire for months in anticipation of a report on the negotiations. Under the Moscow agreement, Korea was to be established as an independent, united country. So far, the removal of Japanese domination has been followed only by an unofficial partition, with the Russians dropping an iron curtain over the northern section of the peninsula. The United States now has set Aug. 21 as a deadline for action, in order that negiotiations may not bog down permanently. Failing a reply by Russia, the United States will "consider what further steps" may be taken to achieve the Korean goal. There has been little so far to indicate that Russia will change her attitude of silent non-co-operation. She leaves her former allies little choice of action.

LOOKING AHEAD

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT sponsorship of the visit of 40 British timber importers to British Columbia is a move with important implications for the future. Under the guidance of departmental experts, and representatives of the industry, the party will inspect a number of logging operations on the mainland and the Island, arriving in Victoria on Aug. 31.

It is not the first time that members of the British timber industry have been brought to this country to look over Canadian export logging facilities. But previous visits have not been shadowed by economic conditions similar to those which today becloud the international trade picture. Britain's financial position, which a few days ago caused Prime Minister Attlee to announce drastic cuts in imports, including lumber, is not one to raise high hopes of immediate prosperous markets. It is to the future, rather, that the intention of the current visit is directed. It is a concrete manifestation of our confidence that the United Kingdom will not remain in her present critical position; that she will recover to resume her outstanding place in world trade; and that the products of British Columbia forests and mills will continue to find a ready outlet in the markets of the British Isles.

ANOTHER STEP TAKEN

THE TAFT-HARTLEY ACT—THE OUTcome of reaction against union excesses—becomes effective in the United States this week, imposing restrictions on organized labor which represent the swing of public opinion away from the "wide open" policy which has marked the past few years. Under the new law, unions may be prosecuted for refusing to bargain, for coercing an employee, forcing an employer to pay for work not actually performed, taking part in jurisdictional strikes, and certain other actions. From a federal standpoint these are all new curbs on labor in the United States. Closed shop agreements may not be entered into after Aug. 22, although union shop contracts will still be legal. (In a closed shop only union men may be hired. In a union shop non-union workers may be taken on, but must later join a union.)

It is not to be thought that the present enactment represents the final word in the sphere of employer-employee relations. There must inevitably be modifications and changes. But the Republican Congress has served notice on labor that a number of union practices that have grown up under Lewis, Petrillo, and other aggressive labor leaders must be curbed if production and industrial harmony are not to suffer. The new law, too, represents a move to protect the rights of the non-union worker as well as the union man.

There has been considerable criticism of the Taft-Hartley measure. There will be more as its provisions are put into effect. But from it may yet come, when experience of its application has indicated possible improvements, a more surely based code by which the two forces of management and labor may be combined to produce the ultimate good for that important but often overlooked third factor—the consumer.

JAPANESE TREATY

ONE OF THESE BRIGHT MORNINGS perhaps the world will wake up to an announcement that the Soviet Union has agreed to some proposal to which the rest of the United Nations have given their support. But as matters stand at present this development would seem to be a considerable distance from realization. The latest manifestation of the difficulty of trying to persuade the men at the Kremlin to follow a reasonable procedure is to be found in Mr. Gromyko's insistance that only the four big Pacific powers—the United States, Britain, China and Russia—shall assume the task of drawing up the peace treaty for Japan.

The United States has categorically rejected this demand from Moscow. The administration at Washington has maintained all along that the terms for the pact with the defeated Nipponese shall be drafted by an 11-power conference which, of course, would include Canada and those other allied countries that took part in the war against Japan from the outset. And even if Russia should persist in her objection to the American plan, it is intimated that proceedings toward the desired objective will be begun without further delay, regardless of whether the Soviet participates or not.

One would think by the way Russia acts toward this matter that the Red Army had been engaged in putting an end to the Nipponese aspirations in Asia almost before the smoke had cleared away from Pearl Harbor. Instead of which, Russian troops received their marching orders only when practically all that required to be done to reduce the Oriental member of the Axis to impotence was the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

In other words, it seems to be the fixed policy of the men in charge at the Kremlin to object to any form of co-operation with the rest of Russia's wartime allies.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

AMERICAN PARALLEL

THE SPOTLIGHT of attention may soon shift to one of the most complex and dangerous issues facing the United States government today—the issue of total security as against the civil rights of the individual. This will happen if, as now seems possible, a number of the 10 employees of the State Department, dismissed on grounds of "disloyalty" a few weeks ago, decide publicly to challenge the department on the issue.

THESE TEN PEOPLE, none of them of top policy making rank, and most of them well down the bureaucratic ladder, all received on the afternoon of June 26 the same mimeographed communication. They were curtly notified that, pursuant to the McCarran amendment to the State Department appropriation, which provided for the summary dismissal of any employees suspected of disloyalty, their services were terminated "with prejudice" as of that afternoon. Their names were not published. But a State Department press release announced their dismissals, and accused them of "indirect association with representatives of a foreign power." In the public mind, they were identified, however anonymously, as something close to traitors.

MOST OF THE ten immediately inquired of their superiors as to the cause of their dismissal, asking for the evidence on which it was based. This was not forthcoming. It was at first made apparent that there could be no appeal from the decision. Since then, in response to pressure both from inside and outside the department, a three-man loyalty board to review these and subsequent cases has been established.

Two or three of the ten no doubt had very clear ideas of why they were dismissed. But unless some singularly masterful deception is under way, most of the others are sincerely mystified by the whole affair. One man, for example, can explain why the axe fell on him only in terms of the fact that he attended a few left-wing meetings in college days, out of curiosity. Another was the friend of a friend of a man who had fought with the Loyalists in the Spanish Civil War. Another somehow got on the mailing list of a left-wing bookstore.

THE SUSPICION inevitably arises that certain subordinate officials of the State Department, harking to Congressional cries for Communist blood, decided that a respectable number of heads must be served up on a platter. This theory gains plausibility from the fact that at least two of the purgees were already on terminal leave from the department, and were recalled only for the purpose of dismissing them. Since these two individuals were not expected to return to work in the department under any circumstances, it is certainly possible that they were dismissed only to add to the department's box score.

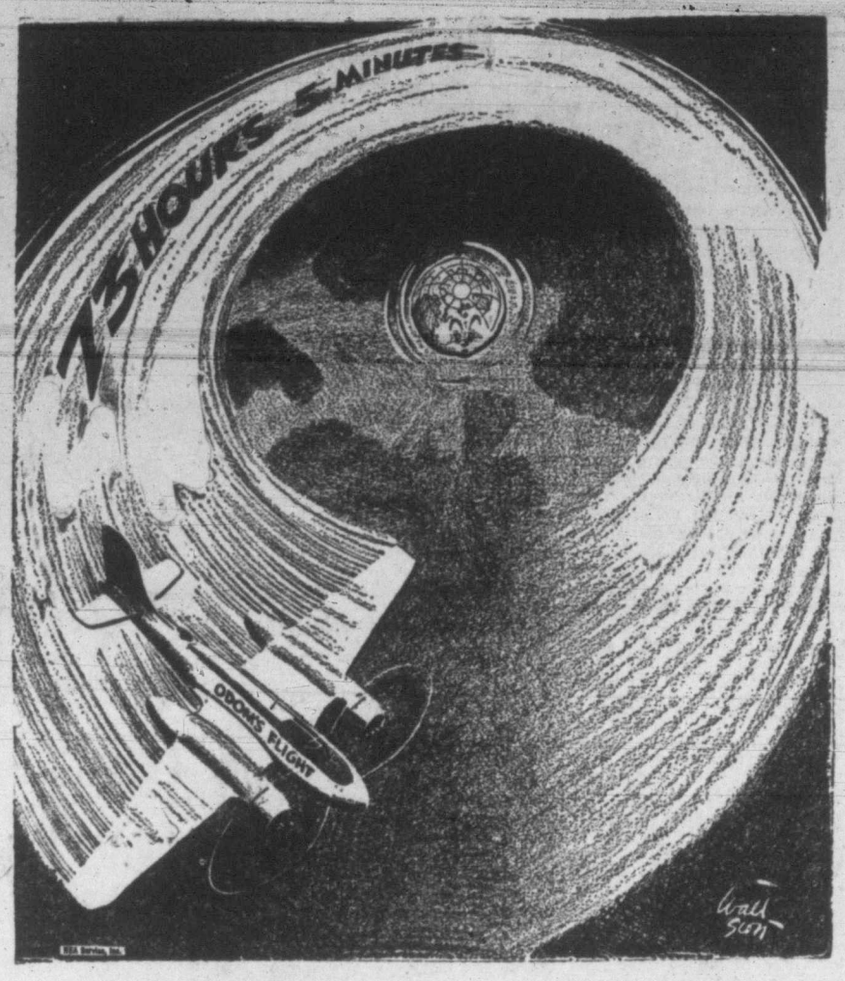
NO DOUBT IT WAS assumed that the fact that no names were published would protect those dismissed. However, it has not worked out that way. In the first place, their fellow employees of course knew why they left the department so suddenly, and Washington is more addicted to gossip than Hog Corners. In the second place, employers have a habit of asking for references, and for reasons for leaving some former employment. This fact has already stood between at least one of the ten and a desirable position. Even those who have found new jobs live in constant fear of losing them if their employers discover why they left the State Department. A number of the ten have been unable to find jobs, and are reported living on the charity of friends and sympathizers.

SOME OF THE TEN purgees are doing what they can to get themselves reinstated, so that they may resign honorably. Failing that, there is at least a fair chance that one or two may decide to become the Dreyfuses in the case, and appeal directly to public opinion through the Civil Liberties Union. Such a public airing of the whole matter might indeed serve a useful purpose. For the issue involved is one of the gravest with which the American government is faced.

After the Canadian espionage case, which proved beyond any doubt that the Soviet Union used members of the Communist party as espionage agents against their native country, the State Department would be plain fatuous not to exclude rigorously any person believed to be pro-Communist. But an ideological attitude is something virtually impossible to prove by any known rules of evidence.

THEREFORE THE GOVERNMENT must have some means of ridding itself of those who may only be suspected on reasonably solid grounds of pro-Communism. Yet, as the case of the ten seems clearly to indicate this may work the harshest kind of injustice on individual government employees. It is a kind of injustice, moreover, which strikes very close to the heart of democratic civil liberties. One proposal is that those against whom some valid grounds for suspicion exist should merely be allowed honorably to resign from government service. At any rate, some reasonable solution must be found. If every independent-minded man in the United States government is to be haunted by fears of J. Edgar Hoover's eager Hawkshaws lurking under his desk, the already too evident trend towards government-by-drones is sure to be vastly accelerated.

WARNING—It's A Small World!



Stories From Behind The Curtain

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

THERE has been quite a migration recently into the American zone of Germany from the east. German war prisoners are being sent back from Russia at the rate of 1,500 a week. An official report says all of them are unfit for work. Hard labor and scanty rations have made them useless to the Soviet government. Now the Americans get to feed them.

FACT OR SURMISE?

These prisoners from behind the iron curtain have some interesting stories to tell. Whether they are based on fact or wild surmise we do not know. But they sound disturbingly plausible. At any rate, let us add these stories to what else is known about Russia and try to revise the general picture. Assuming the stories to be true, we get something like this:

The Russians are maintaining a huge force of men under arms. They are experimenting in the field of new weapons. But they are also concentrating on conventional munitions and armaments. Inferior labor and material are going into the production of consumer goods. The best labor and material are being used to get ready for World War III.

The new Soviet line of "re-education," for the lads who enjoyed their taste of non-Communist life while on European duty, is this: Europe lost two world wars because her people insisted on living high. Russia pulled in her belt and won World War II single-handed. Now, by concentrating on guns instead of butter, she is preparing to win the inevitable third world war. After that, perhaps, there will be pie in the sky. But not now.

WANTS SHOWDOWN

All this fits in interestingly with an article in this month's American magazine called "Let's Have a Showdown With Russia." It is by Rep. Charles A. Eaton, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, a former Baptist minister, and scarcely a man of a war-mongering nature.

Mr. Eaton, like many Americans, is fed up with Russian deceptions and evasions. "Russia today is maintaining a larger military force than any other nation has ever maintained in peacetimes," he writes. "And still her leaders are crying for the rest of the world to disarm. Their audacity is unmatched in world diplomacy."

He suggests that America call the Soviet bluff by an aggressive attitude, assume active leadership of the peace and freedom-loving nations, and read Russia out of the United Nations if necessary.

That is an appalling extremity, though it may yet be necessary. However, there is no present assurance that, if psychology failed and force had to be used, the ensuing holocaust would end in a victory for freedom.

DO NOT WANT WAR

We may argue today that the United States can outproduce the Russian orbit. We may argue that the Russian people do not want war, and that there can be no real unity in a country where half the population is hired by the secret police to spy on the other half.

But the real question is what Russia, through threats, force, duplicity and guile, can do with the hand she holds. Before this government calls Russia's bluff, it must be dead sure that it has the high cards.

Australian News

IF YOU HAPPEN to live in New York, it's Columbus Circle—or maybe it's Union Square. In London, it's Hyde Park but if you're an Australian and you live in a capital city it can be Sydney's Domain, or the Yarra Bank in Melbourne, a pitch on the Esplanade in Perth or a patch of Adelaide parklands.

Whatever the place and wherever the site each has a similar significance intimately linked with a fundamental principle underlying the democracy we all share—freedom of speech.

FREE FOR ALL

At the Domain in Sydney there are no barriers. There are no secret police to take notes. There are not even any signs to keep you off the grass. All one needs to become a part of the Domain kaleidoscope is a theory, a voice with which to expound it, a stand of some sort to lift one over the heads of the throng, and perhaps, a little patience to deal with the hecklers and the interjectors who are an integral part of every listening group.

Among the eager orators there is always a communist. If you're on the fringe of his listeners your concentration will be interrupted occasionally by the voice of a trade union leader or a Labor Party supporter behind you. And just across the way, a few yards off, there's the anarchist who is roaring uncompromising opposition to every sort of organization.

Lost somewhere there is a man who is the leader of a one man party. He calls himself an "Atokist" and high above his head a tiny model world is perched precariously on the end of a wooden pole. It's his party symbol. "You see," he yells, "the world is up the pole." To get it back to a more conventional foundation, he would have the government abolish all taxes.

A little farther over there's a bronzed gentleman in a pair of white shorts and an immaculately ironed sports shirt. Sunday after Sunday for years past he's tried to convince listeners that the only way future generations of Australians can prevent their hair falling out and their bodies disintegrating generally is by taking advantage of the germ of longevity which dwells in the heart of wheat. His more passionate points are driven home by solid blows on his chest to emphasize what the germ of wheat has done for him.

And mingled with it all is the steady beat of a drum where the Salvation Army wages its persistent battle with the forces of evil. Or you might be able to hear, even from here, the wheezy pant of the tiny organ of an evangelist group. Occasionally one of the singers looks across the lawn with a frown to a point where a lively swing band is blasting out hot jive with a swing-king fervor and a solid religious flavor. In between numbers, their leader will shout: "God gave us the gift and we're not going to let the devil get away with the tunes."

SNAKE-BITE

There's a grey-haired, lined-faced, old veteran whose tatooed arm forms a picturesque playground for a bevy of malicious-looking snakes. He's offering a snake-bite cure that will protect the user against even the deadly sting of the tiger snake.

Every now and again you bump into a policeman who tolerantly makes it his duty to see that everyone gets a fair go. It's a rare occasion when he has to handle anyone whose temper finally gets the best of him.

Adventurous Life

H. NICOLSON in London Calling

Even 10 years ago, the life of a young bank clerk, let us say, was far emptier than it is today. It may be that his mother, or his wife, grumble at having to queue for bread, or being short of fuel—but they know that all this will not continue for ever. And they know that the old restrictions, by which they were hemmed in and segregated, the cold emptiness of the old life, is giving place to something more colored, more varied and more adventurous.

Of course, you would find England poorer, and more drab than it was before; the evidences of wealth are far less apparent, but the old, undue differences in income are being levelled out.

You would not find that the young people look tired; you would not find that they believe that life can never be as pleasant for them as it was for their parents. You would find that they have, as never before, a sense of personal opportunity, a sense that they can make and expand their lives. Yes—that is, I believe, the main change that you would notice: A feeling that, somehow, a sense of more equal opportunity is spreading across the land. And that is a good change, a welcome change.

Global Survey

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

FOR ANYONE who has talked with some of the leaders of the Far East, as this reporter has done, there can be little doubt that the brown and yellow peoples mean their present turmoil to end in freedom from their old white rulers.

For Britain, the French and the Dutch such an outcome could mean very serious economic changes. Much of their economy was based on an exchange of raw materials of the east for the manufactured goods of the west.

Happily, many of the Far Easterners recognize this exchange of goods must not only continue but grow. This reporter has talked, for example, to one of the partners of India's House of Tata, a tremendous combine of commerce and finance.

He told me the Far Easterners are ambitious for a growing industrial life for India that could furnish jobs to millions who eke out a sub-marginal life on poor farm land.

They are naturally ambitious to sell consumer goods to their Far Eastern neighbors—the type of goods which has been supplied by European factories. That could mean disastrous loss of sales for the Europeans.

BASED ON FRIENDSHIP

But this particular Indian financier pointed out that while Europe might lose some sales the whole Far East is clamoring for the sort of heavy machinery which Europe knows how to make.

This man thought in terms of trade and finance. But from another Indian, a Moslem lawyer and newspaper owner from Calcutta, this reporter heard of another phase.

The lawyer was impatient with what he called "the stupidity of the white races." He also foresaw the Far East buying from Europe and the United States the machines needed for industrialization—but he insisted the trade will have to be based on friendship of the brown and yellow for the white.

He felt the Far East could get along on its own, if it has to, drawing industrialization from India's great steel mills. But he deplored that course because it would be slow and could result in animosity on his part of the world against the white areas.

He estimated that "the white races have 50 years to make friends with us in the Far East." He wants western respect for eastern culture, western sharing of technical knowledge, and independence.

By such a formula Britain appears to be moving into the new world most swiftly.

NEW FORMULA

They turned over the government of India, first, to Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India. The Hindus reciprocated by recognizing their last British Viceroy, Viscount Mountbatten, as their first British Governor-General. India becomes a dominion in the same relation to the Crown as Canada.

In Burma, British authorities are pursuing a similar course. The Burmese have elected a constituent assembly which is writing a constitution.

Sledding has been rougher for the Dutch. In March they wrote an agreement with the Indonesians setting up a republic to include Java, Sumatra and Madoera, with the understanding that the new republic would agree to a union with the Netherlands. Subsequent shooting has befogged the fate of that agreement.

From Indo-China, where the French rule, there is no similar news except for the aspirations of the native leaders.

For Far Easterners as a whole the Philippines stand as a beacon. They not only gained their independence from the United States without bloodshed, but American aid is going to the islands as the people feel their way through their new freedom.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"I had four weeks' eggs ration for breakfast this morning," said one of the arriving British immigrants. That's putting it in a way that should make us pause.

THE MIDDLE CLASS

B.C. Financial Times

There is a change taking place in the middle class of the country. No longer is it composed of the white collar worker and the retired person with an investment sufficient to give him a modest income. Indeed, these people are now in danger of becoming "the new poor," so rapidly are conditions changing.

Dorothy Dix

PARENTAL TYRANNY

Dear Miss Dix—I am a girl 21 years old and have a good position in a large firm. Being in contact with so many girls, I am often invited out to dinners and shows, all nice, proper parties and people, but my parents seldom allow me to accept any of these invitations, and when I do I have to be home at such an early hour that it breaks up the party.

When I protest against this tyranny, my parents enter into a long dissertation on the sacrifices they made to bring me up, and what invariably irritates me most is they tell me that if they were not so strict with me I would have gone to the bad, like so many other girls they read of in the papers. All of which, of course, is nonsense. I could have run away if I had wanted to, or met boys on the sly, and done the things that thousands of other girls are forced into doing by their parents.

I tell my parents this, but to no avail. Why can't they realize that I am old enough to have some personal liberty? What can I do? I don't think I can stand such treatment much longer.

UNHAPPY GIRL.

Answer—It seems to me that I answer this question about once a month, but I am so filled with sympathy for the poor frustrated girls who are being deprived by their stupid, narrow-minded parents of all the pleasure that belongs to their time of life, that I am going to keep on answering it in the hope that I can make some fathers and mothers see what a cruel thing they are doing to their helpless children.

ACTIONS REVEAL GREED

Of course, many fathers and mothers who will not let their grown daughters have dates or go out with boys, or even let a boy cross their thresholds, are actuated by greed. They want Sally's and Mary's pay envelope and they are going to keep them from marrying just as long as they possibly can.

But with many other parents it is just sheer lack of knowledge of life that makes them keep their girls prisoners in their homes. They have all sorts of weird, distorted ideas about the orgies that the young people of today indulge in, and they actually think they are protecting their daughters if they never let them go around with any other youngsters, or attend a dance, or even go to the movies, unless they go with them.

Why they can't see that it is a girl's character, and not being watched, that is her protection and keeps her going straight, nobody knows. From the time a modern girl is 17 years old she has to be her own chaperon, because mother and father can't be with her while she is at work; they can't hold her by the hand every time she goes on the street; they can't keep her from meeting all types of men, and she has to take care of herself. And the only way she can do it is by knowing the world of men, and how to handle whatever situations that come up. And, most of all, by being trusted and being put on her honor by her parents to do the right thing.

It is the girls who have to lie to their parents about where they go and meet boys on the sly who are pushed into doing wrong by their overstrict fathers and mothers. In trying to save their daughters, many parents ruin them.

BREAKFAST PROBLEM

Dear Miss Dix: Our trouble is the breakfast problem. When we were first married my wife used to get breakfast, but after the baby came and she was up at night with it I let her sleep mornings. Now she has gotten into the habit of it and won't quit. I tell her that it is a man's duty to provide for the family and pay the bills, and that it is a woman's duty to prepare the meals and keep the house. But she says that I am old-fashioned and behind the times with that idea. She says that at least 50 per cent of the other housewives, who are modern, don't prepare breakfast for their husbands.

She tells me that 7 o'clock in the morning is too early for her to get up and she should be able to sleep until 9 or 10 o'clock. What is your opinion? Am I old-fashioned and behind the times, or am I a sap?

JOHN

CAN SPOIL WIFE

Answer: Well, I think you are a sap if you let her get away with that. You can spoil a wife just as easily as you can a baby, and with about the same results. You will have a brat on your hands the balance of your life if you don't read the riot act to her and make it plain to her that you are not putting up with any foolishness, and that unless she does her part towards making a happy home, there won't be any home for her.

If a wife is sick, it is up to the husband to arise, get his own breakfast and prepare a tray for her, or do anything else he can to help her. But when it comes to waiting on an able-bodied woman who just wants to loaf and take it easy, and who makes the husband not only bring home the bacon but fry it, it is time for him to rebel and mean it.

If it is true, which I doubt, that 50 per cent of the modern wives lie abed and snooze of a morning until 10 o'clock while their husbands go breakfastless to work, it would explain the rise in the divorce rate. For there can be no peaceful homes and no contented husbands when the wife refuses to co-operate and d her share of the work.

Sinatra Happy As He Starts Work On New Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's how the news looks on this warm August day in California . . . Rita Hayworth is due back in the Hollywoods Sept. 3, when she's expected to begin divorce proceedings against Orson Welles. She'll have two pictures for her consideration, both with South American backgrounds . . .

Frank Sinatra began "Miracle of the Bells" a happy man. It's not only because he was eager for his priest's role, but also because treatment has revived his hairline, which threatened to rival Crosby's. Frank proudly showed me his new foliage . . .

Nelson Eddy tells me his plans for an independent production have been put off because of the British situation. The same is happening to many independents around town. The Eddy-MacDonald rematch is still cold, despite clamoring of their fans for another film . . .

The British are coming via radio, too. Transcribed air shows made in England and featuring Noel Coward, Gracie Fields and others are being offered for broadcast in the United States, as well as Canada, South Africa and Australia. Curiously enough, the shows can't be broadcast in England, where there is no commercial radio . . .

BREAK FOR L.A.

Los Angeles, forgotten by the movies except for modern murder stories, is finally getting a break. Republic's "In Old Los Angeles," with Ilona Massey, John Carroll and Joseph Schildkraut will explore the early history of our burg . . .

Joseph Cotten is dreaming up a radio series which he hopes to sell to a sponsor with himself as producer. He plans it to be intelligent dramatic fare and has already waxed several shows. "Radio programs don't have to be bad to be commercial," he argues . . .

Van Heflin was asked by his studio to endorse a certain gum. He refused, for an unheard-of reason: He doesn't chew gum . . . Ruth Hussey has a new agent and plans an early return to pictures. She has been away because of stage and stork commitments.

Bob Hope says there's a "good chance" Jerry Colonna will be on the comic's air show again this fall. The brush's plans for his own air show didn't materialize and the two boys are negotiating.

POLES REPORT UNCOVERING OF NAZI WAR CRIME—The photo above, received from official Polish sources, with caption material supplied by Polish authorities, shows members of a Soviet war crimes commission examining a collective grave of Russian prisoners of war. This is at Komarowka Camp, near Komorowo, Poland, and commission members said they found mass graves of 25,000 victims of the Nazis.

Search Spurred For 2 Lost Planes

HALIFAX (CP) — Search for two missing planes and their three occupants was spurred into new life today as officials investigated the finding of two new clues during the week-end.

A pontoon picked up in Advocat Bay, on the shore of Minas Basin, was identified by officials of the Halifax Flying Club as part of a Fleet Canuck airplane missing since Sunday when it left nearby Waverley on a flight to Fredericton. Two men were aboard.

Meanwhile, aircraft from Goose Bay, Labrador, and Harmon Field, Nfld., continued the search for a light Fox Moth photographic survey plane and its one occupant missing since Aug. 10.

A new clue was uncovered Sunday night from surveyors at Natashquan, Que., 600 miles east of Quebec City, who said they had seen a plane "flying low and apparently lost" last Tuesday.

The plane had taken off from Rapide Lake, Que., en route to Goose Bay two days before, and search and rescue officials were at a loss to explain what it was doing at Natashquan only 175 miles away.

The other was manned by pilot J. B. Mutton of Toronto and was described as a photographic plane.

The Fleet Canuck was carrying John MacLean of Hopewell, N.S., and Norman Crewe of Waverley. The plane was reported missing two days after it left Waverley.

Mexico Police Force Fires 300 Robbers

MEXICO CITY (Reuter) — It may take a thief to catch a thief, but to be a thief with impunity it is sometimes best to be a policeman.

A policeman breaking into a house and the tenant calling a civilian for help was the theme of a recent newspaper cartoon, following a statement by a high police official that 300 policemen who were thieves had been dismissed from the force.

The statement said:

"In the past two months we have dismissed about 300 members of the police force, whom we had inherited from the previous administration. It hurts to say so, but the truth is that many of them . . . were considered among the most skilful housebreakers, and they helped each other to escape the consequences."

Start Hunger Strike

PARIS (Reuters)—Jewish refugees began a hunger strike on board three British ships off Port de Bouc, southern France, today in protest against British refusal to return them to Palestine.

The strike action was taken on all three of the British ships—the Runnymede Park, Ocean Vigour and Empire Rival.

Food supplies delivered to the ships this morning by the French relief organization were returned to the quay.

Less than 150 persons have come ashore from the three ships since they arrived off the French coast from Haifa 19 days ago, and the immigrants have stood by their refusal to land "anywhere but in Palestine."

Since the 4,400 refugees on the illegal Jewish immigrant ship Exodus 1947 were intercepted by the Royal Navy in a clandestine journey to Palestine and returned to France, there have been rumors of their departure to a British-controlled port, said to be "Mombasa or somewhere else in Kenya." But so far neither British nor French officials have received any instructions about the ships' sailings.

'Ramrod,' De Toth Family Affair

"Ramrod," the new picture from the studios of Enterprise Productions Inc., is really a vehicle for the de Toth family. Andre de Toth was the director of the film and his wife, Veronica Lake, co-stars with Joel McCrea.

"Ramrod," which also features Preston Foster, Don De Fore, Donald Crisp, Charlie Ruggles and Arleen Whelan, is currently at the Plaza Theatre.

Marauding Bear In 'Yearling' Role

"Slewfoot," a 600-pound bear, gives such human actors as Gregory Peck, Jane Wyman and Claude Jarman Jr. some tough acting competition in the suspense-packed bear-hunt sequence of "The Yearling," filmization of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' Pulitzer Prize winning novel, which is now showing this week in technicolor.

The sequence has the marauding bear lead Peck, as Penny Baxter, and little Jarman Jr., cast as Jody, a thrilling chase through the wilderness of the Florida scrub country before Peck catches up with him to fire a shot which misses when his gun backfires.

Propose Co-Operative Hotel For Lake Cowichan Area

LAKE COWICHAN—Need for another hotel at Lake Cowichan, centre for Youbou, Honeymoon Bay and Mesachie Lake communities with a population of some 4,500 was discussed at a special meeting here with a committee appointed to investigate the possibilities of a proposed co-operative hotel for the district.

The committee will discuss the possibility of forming a co-operative group or stock company and present a progress report in 30 days.

On the committee are: J. E. Anderson, Oscar Branting, Ralph Godfrey, G. E. M. Hewlett, Tom Gordon, R. Gilman and Mrs. Jean Carlson.

The move followed a meeting of the Ratepayers' Association held in the Community Hall at Lake Cowichan a week ago, to consider the rezoning of a site chosen by the Lake Cowichan Hotel Co., which proposed to build a 28-room hotel, with lounge, reading-room, lunch counter and beer parlor. E. Robson and Fred Price of Duncan presented plans for the hotel. No action on rezoning was taken when two commissioners stated that local residents should be given the opportunity of going into the hotel business.

At a meeting of the municipal council, J. E. Anderson was granted permission to construct a coal yard and building to house building supplies. J. A. Pecknold was granted a license to operate a fountain and light lunch in the new Smith Block.

Temporary building permits were granted C. Whitmore, E. C. Jones, D. Wieberg, R. Haldorson and A. Fisk.

Council endorsed a resolution, amending the Village Act which will go before the Union of B.C. Municipalities' Convention. Under the act as it now stands, if taxes exceed $7,500, the municipality assumes the care of poor and indigent. The amendment would raise that sum to $12,500 before the municipality must assure any responsibility to enable the municipality to take care of needed public work projects.

'Holiday In Mexico' Colorful Musical

M-G-M has distributed its acting talent and melodic resources lavishly in its colorful musical, "Holiday in Mexico," current attraction at the Oak Bay Theatre, and the result is a delightfully tuneful and infectious musical drama filmed in technicolor against stunning south of the border backgrounds.

Walter Pidgeon is seen as the suave ambassador to Mexico who finds he needs all the diplomacy at his command to prevent his motherless daughter from making a fool of herself over an older man with whom she imagines herself to be in love.

DOMINION THEATRE

Action-filled scenes, suspenseful drama and romance with a punch sweep across the screen in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," which is now at the Dominion Theatre. "The Westerner" has Gary Cooper in the title role, and the supporting cast features such brilliant players as Walter Brennan, Doris Davenport and Fred Stone.

New Savings Bonds Coming In October

OTTAWA (CP)—In anticipation of a new offering, the first series of Canada Savings Bonds will be withdrawn from sale Aug. 30, the Finance Department announced today.

It was learned that the second series, probably in October, will be similiar to the one floated last year. The issue probably will bear interest at 2¾ per cent, with a 10-year maturity. Denominations likely also will be the same —$50, $100, $500 and $1,000 and there probably will be the same limit of $2,000 worth to a customer.

Government financial men said the bonds, a peacetime replacement of the wartime Victory Bonds, are not aimed at covering the administration's borrowing requirements. Rather, they are aimed at meeting public demands for savings securities engendered by the wartime stress on thriftiness.

Officials stress the bonds will be available for those who want to buy them, but there will be no high-pressure campaign.

In announcing withdrawal of the first series, the Finance Department said action was taken in accordance with the provisions of the offering, which stated that the Finance Minister reserved the right to withdraw them any time after Nov. 1, 1946.

Tallest Leading Lady In New Role

The screen's largest quota of romantic appeal has been found!

She is six foot four inches tall Dorothy Ford, Los Angeles girl who won out over 25 contenders for a featured role with Mickey Rooney in "Love Laughs at Andy Hardy." The first postwar picture in the popular Hardy Family series opens today on the Atlas screen.

Hollywood's tallest leading lady is a new role for Miss Ford, but it had a familiar setting. A former glamazon, she appeared in several M-G-M musicals when the studio signed up a group of tall showgirls.

Inspector Explains City's Curb Markings

Because of a misunderstanding on the part of many motorists as to the meaning of the various colored curb markings in the downtown shopping area, Inspector Harry Mercer of the city police department has issued a statement of explanation.

Solid yellow lines denote that private vehicles shall not park at any time. Solid white lines indicate a loading zone. Parking here is allowed private vehicles between 6 p.m. and 7 a.m. In the daytime these areas must only be used for purposes of loading and unloading of freight, merchandise and passengers.

Curbs with white and yellow block markings are also parking zones but private vehicles may park here between 6 p.m. and 9 a.m.

Red and white block markings denote bus loading zones and must not be used by any other vehicles.

'Rebecca,' Film Of Throbbing Mystery

The house where the throbbing mystery of "Rebecca" was played had much to do with the great success of the picture, in the opinion of Director Alfred Hitchcock. "Rebecca" is the David O. Selznick production co-starring Joan Fontaine and Laurence Olivier, now at the York Theatre. The film won the Academy Award and National Critics' Poll, and is being re-presented by popular demand.

Do You Feel Nervous And All on Edge?
People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Glycero-Lecithin with Vitamin B(1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B(1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B(1) in the diet. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

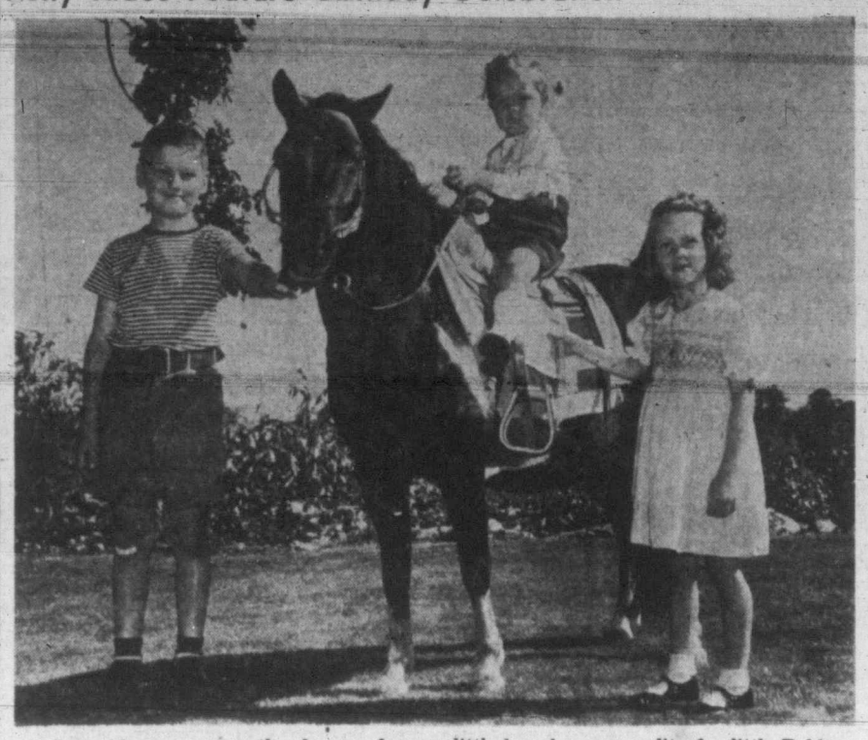
Pony Rides Feature Birthday Celebration



A first ride on a pony, the dream of every little boy, became reality for little Bobby Johns last Tuesday when he celebrated his third birthday. The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johns is pictured above on the pony, with his cousins, John Gilliland and Linda Johns, at the Johns' residence, 1515 Despard Avenue, where many little friends joined their host in his celebrations. The birthday table was centred with a large pony filled with summer flowers, and before each small guest was placed a miniature pony with saddlebags brimming with sweets.

C.F.U.W. Advocates Immediate Penal Reform, Immigration

TORONTO (CP) — Immediate action to reform Canada's penal system was asked the federal government Saturday in a resolution passed at an executive meeting of the Canadian Federation of University Women.

Twenty-eight delegates from the federation's 54 clubs attended the session which followed the week-long convention here of the International Federation of University Women.

Delegates discussed the number of teen-age boys sent yearly to jails and penitentiaries across the Dominion. They urged the government "to take immediate action" regarding the treatment of these offenders. At the same time they set up a special C.F.U.W. committee to study the present penal system.

In a second resolution the federation commended the CBC for its school broadcasts, discussion forums, experimental drama, and agreed to co-operate with the CBC in such fields.

Dr. Dorothy Turville of the University of Western Ontario, London, was appointed convener of the nominating committee which will prepare for the C.F.U.W. elections at the triennial convention in 1949.

Those appointed to the committee included Dr. Jean Murran, Saskatoon, and Mrs. H. B. Sommerseld, Winnipeg.

Immigration came up for discussion during the meeting as delegates approved a resolution favoring a generous immigration policy for Canada.

"I think we have a moral responsibility in allowing the homeless to come to Canada," said Dr. Hilda Neatby of Saskatoon, as members discussed the bringing of displaced persons into the Dominion.

The question of the professional woman combining a career with marriage was brought before the meeting by Mrs. Cora Casselman of Edmonton, convener of the Committee on Legal and Economic Status of Women.

"It is still evident that although there is equality under the law that in actual practice promotion and remuneration is less for women than for men," Mrs. Casselman said.

"Let us try in the coming year to develop more of a 'federation feeling,' and may the repercussions from the I.F.U.W. Conference color our year and stir us to a vision and achievement beyond anything yet attempted," Mrs. R. E. Crummy of Vancouver, C.F.U.W. president, said in her report.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schmidt of Abbotsford, B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Adina, to Mr. Gordon Valentine Chapman, son of Mr. J. W. Chapman of 2540 Shelbourne Street. The wedding will take place Sept. 5 at 8 p.m. at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Varney, 1281 Kings Road, Victoria, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen, to Charles Cornwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cornwell of Shawnigan Lake. The wedding will take place at Victoria Truth Centre on Sept. 13 at 3 p.m.

Scholarships Awarded

TORONTO (CP) — Scholarships totaling $2,750 were awarded by the Canadian Federation of University Women at a meeting of the executive here Saturday.

Anne Underhill of Vancouver was awarded the $1,250 traveling fellowship to continue studies in astrophysics at Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago where she expects to qualify for a doctorate in 1948.

Hold That Hemline, Many Women Cry

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Thirteen hundred members of the Little-Below-the-Knee Club, an organized revolt against new long skirts, will hold that hemline in the southwest this winter.

Mrs. Warren Woodard, attractive, 24-year-old housewife, founded the L.B.K.'s three weeks ago because: "I didn't feel like throwing away my entire wardrobe and I thought a lot of other women might feel the same way."

She asked: "Why should a girl cover up her legs?—They may be her best selling points."

Last night at a L.B.K. meeting Mrs. A. B. Taylor, 48, said: "During the first World War, I wore hobble skirts and I had to hoist them when I got on a streetcar. A few years later, skirts were above my knees and I had to hold them down when got on a streetcar. Well, I'm fed up with this foolishness from New York and Paris."

TORONTO, TOO

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto women are ready to back up their 1,300 sisters in Dallas who have organized a hold-that-hemline movement in protest against the current trend to longer skirts, a telephone survey showed tonight.

"I can't stand them," said one woman. "They're too awkward."

"How are we going to get on and off streetcars?" asked another.

And the men: Here's a schoolteacher's reaction:

"Too many pretty knees in the world to cover them up. My only pleasure in life is looking at them."

White Satin, Net In Bridal Gown

On August 12, at the manse, Fairfield United Church, Rev. Armitage officiated at the marriage of Lily, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jack, 1137 Pandora Avenue, and Gordon, only son of Mrs. Quan Kay and the late Mr. Quan Kay, 1822½ Government Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with net yoke outlined with pearls. Her veil of embroidered net fell to her fingertips from a beaded coronet. A single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, was her only jewelry and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and swansonia.

Miss Reta Quan, cousin of the groom, was the bride's only attendant, attired in a blue organza gown with headdress of blue net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Albert Yeun was best man and ushering were Fred Yeun and George Chan.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Strathcona Hotel banquet hall, where a three-tier wedding cake, flanked with lighted white candles centred the table. Albert Yuen proposed a toast to the bride.

For traveling in the States, the bride wore a pearl-grey dressmaker suit, powder-blue topcoat and white accessories.

After the honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Victoria.

Ruby Hantke Carries Good Luck Charm In Bridal Bouquet

A silver horseshoe good luck charm, brought from England by Mrs. J. Moody, was carried by Miss Ruby Florence Hantke in her bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations when she became the bride of William Harold McIlwain, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIlwain, Whiterock, B.C., in a pretty ceremony Saturday at 5, at Hope Lutheran Church.

The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hantke, 881 Canterbury Road, she was given in marriage by her father. Princess-line slenderness featured the bride's white satin gown, the skirt fashioned slightly en train. Her veil of embroidered silk net was caught to her blonde hair with a coronet of orange blossoms and lily of the valley. She wore her mother's gift, a single strand pearl necklace, and gift of the groom's mother, an heirloom brooch.

Pink jersey silk designed with overskirt of sheer net was worn by maid of honor Miss Freida Schaefer. The bride's sister, Miss Myrtle Hantke, as bridesmaid, was gowned in rose taffeta under net. Both wore picture hats to match, and carried bouquets of asters and gladioli. They wore the bride's gifts of pearls.

The groom chose as best man Allen Hantke, brother of the bride. Philip Hantke, another brother, ushered guests to their seats.

Rev. E. A. Biberdorf performed the ceremony, while Mrs. Biberdorf presided at the organ.

J. Moody gave the toast to the bride at a reception at the home of her parents. Mrs. Hantke and Mrs. McIlwain assisted in receiving guests. A good-luck horseshoe topped the three-tier wedding cake.

For the honeymoon trip to Wells, B.C., where Mr. and Mrs. McIlwain will make their future home, the bride wore a black crepe dress, with lace yoke trimmed in pink, a pink picture hat and three-quarter-length pink topcoat. She chose black accessories and her corsage bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

Lillian Wallis Wed In St. John's Church

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in St. John's Church, Miss Lillian Maud Wallis, daughter of Mrs. G. E. Wallis, 1720 Denman Street, and the late W. T. Wallis, repeated marriage vows with Bertram Francis Legh Thirlwell, son of Mrs. A. R. Hazell, 2548 Dufferin Avenue and the late B. D. Thirlwell of Medicine Hat. Rev. N. Blunt officiated.

White lace taffeta fashioned the bride's floor-length gown. A coronet of small pearls held her full-length veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white gladioli. Mr. W. Olorenshaw, grandfather of the bride, gave her in marriage. T. Myers played the wedding music.

Miss Muriel Wallis, sister of the bride, chose a full-length gown of blue figured organdie and Miss Betty Bastin wore a similarly styled gown, in yellow. Both attendants wore shoulder-length veils and carried bouquets of gladioli.

The groom chose as best man, Harry Goodman and Gordon Wallis, brother of the bride, and Ronnie Mitchell ushered guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Y.W.C.A. where a three-tier wedding cake centred the refreshment table.

For her honeymoon at Banff, the bride traveled in a three-piece black and white check suit with black and white accessories. A corsage bouquet of gardenias completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Thirlwell will make their home at 2548 Dufferin Avenue.

Four Maids Attend Miss Eleen DeMaris

Picture gowns of white nylon net dotted in red were worn by a quartette of bridal attendants when marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Eleen Winnifred DeMaris and Ian Barr Kenny, Saturday at 8 at Christ Church Cathedral.

Rev. T. L. Leadbetter read the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Charles DeMaris, 2403 Douglas Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kenny, Vancouver, B.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in full-skirted heavy white satin, fashioned with nylon yoke embossed with pearls, and lily point sleeves. Her embroidered veil, cascading to train length, was held by a coronet of pearl and silver beads, and she wore the groom's gift, a single strand of pearls. Her bouquet of red roses was centred with a gardenia wreathed with tiny rosebuds.

Red and white sweet peas were carried by Miss Gladys DeMaris, maid of honor for her sister; Miss Kay Steward and Mrs. Graham Park, bridesmaids, and flower girl, little Doreen McCallum. They wore hats of white mohair and straw trimmed with stephanotis.

Gerald Houlden stood with the groom as best man. Ushers were Charles DeMaris, brother of the bride, and Graham Park.

T. Jenkins presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register, L. Carpenter sang "Because."

A reception was held at the Kit Kat Banquet Hall, where mothers of the bride and groom assisted in receiving guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by W. G. Crawford. Tiny pink rosebuds wreathed the three-tier wedding cake centring the bride's table.

The young couple traveled to Vancouver and Seattle for their honeymoon, following which they will make their home in Vancouver. The bride chose a raspberry gabardine suit styled with peplum jacket, white three-quarter length topcoat, white feather hat and black accessories, for her going-away ensemble.

Midsummer Scene At Prospect Lake

Barry and Ronald Lawley, visitors from Vancouver at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pengelly, Prospect Lake, during the past two weeks, spent much time rowing on the lake. They returned to their mainland home this week-end with their mother, Mrs. R. Lawley, declaring they would be "back next year and stay longer."

Paris Holds Skirt Line 12 Inches From Ground In Gloved War With New York

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS — Undisturbed by reports that New York is asserting its claim to style leadership, Paris fashion czars are now all set to prove to the world that dress designing supremacy still stems from the "Ville Lumiere."

First to open the offensive in the kid glove war of the hectic fall showings was Jean Desses, who since the liberation has worked himself up to the big name bracket and now dresses ladies of the Egyptian court. Desses produced a collection which is destined to make fashion news.

While the general trend is reminiscent of styles of the early 20's, with bustles, peplums, pegtop and barrel skirts, these, however, acquired a definite 1947 air due to subtleties of modern cut.

Skirt hems hover between 10 and 12 inches from the floor, but Desses introduces for informal gowns the umbrella godet from the waist in back, preserving the slim, straight line in the front yet insuring perfect ease in walking. This same idea acquires exaggerated fulness in evening gowns. Most effects, anyway, are concentrated in back throughout the collection.

Coats and suits have lost the last vestiges of masculinity both in cut and use of soft wools and tweeds. Jackets, molded to a slightly raised but still waspish waistline, have rounded shoulders and fasten high under tiny shawls or Eton collars; hips are emphasized with boning, important pocket effects, or basques.

Strictly-tailored redingotes are replaced by pegtop or barrel-shaped skirts tied up to fitted tops. Hiplength capes, sometimes caught in at the wrist, featured bold plaid traveling wraps or fur-hemmed wraps for formal daytime and evening wear.

MOLYNEUX: RESTRAINED

The Molyneux collection, epitome of restraint and ultra conservative, offers a direct contrast to the sophisticated femininity of Desses. Molyneux apparently doesn't believe his clientele ready for the longer skirts.

Daytime costumes include tailleurs with swinging, pleated skirts or skirts gathered onto an unfitted hipyoke, topped with wristlength jackets.

As always, this collection includes a group of easy-to-wear dresses of soft wools, jerseys, crepes and velvets with medium full skirts and high-necked, unmolded simple bodices, the contrast note often introduced at the waistline by means of shaped leather belts.

Straight or wraparound topcoats, sometimes lined with fur, are suggested for town wear with restrained fur trim.

Ankle-length dance frocks acquire greater informality by the use of handsome pastel brocaded satins in medium wide barrel skirts and high sleeveless bodices. Ultra formal evening frocks include several period gowns, evocative of 16th century portraits, with billowing skirt fulness over the hips and deep pointed waist effects at the back and front, completed with a looped pearl headdress over the brows.

The highlight of the Maggy Rouff collection is the introduction of the swinging bell skirt as the motif of all her daytime costumes except strictly functional sports togs. She contends that ultra long skirts tend to make one look older, and hems here are seldom longer than 12 inches from the ground for informal daytime costumes.

Gay nineties flavor is evident in the use of graduated bands of velvet or deep hems of contrasting fabric, ball fringe trimming, dust ruffles, and pleated or gathered berthas in formal daytime or evenings outfits.

Even tailleurs and redingotes are essentially soft and feminine, the former having jackets trimmed with luscious fur collars and rippling basques, the latter also featuring the new bell skirt.

Important in this collection is a group of youthful formal afternoon costumes. Interest is focused on the skirts, expressed in a variety of fabrics including satin, wool and silk jerseys, crepes, and velvet. Godet pleats massed at the front and sides alternate with bell-cut to contrast with simple, highnecked bodices, some discreetly draped.

Evening costumes are divided between "little women" dresses of floor length with umbrella skirts of stiff satins, failles, tulle, brocades, broadcloth, and clinging "pin up" princess gowns with molded tucked bodices with drawstring decolletes.

SEARCH FOR "SOMETHING"

SIXTEEN-year old Frederick Sertuerner was starting his apprenticeship as a doctor. One day a badly burned child was brought in for treatment. The older doctor administered Opium, the usual pain killer of the day, but, mysteriously, it failed to work. Young Sertuerner pondered on the problem and concluded that not Opium, but some other "something" usually contained in the drug was the pain-relieving agent. Night after night he worked and finally his efforts were rewarded in a grey crystal, Morphine, the "Something" he had been searching for.

Pharmacists are as skilled in their profession as your doctor is in his. They are his assistants in guarding your health; he depends upon them to translate his prescriptions into pure, accurately compounded medicines.

Taft-Hartley Labor Act, Banning Closed Shop, Becomes Law Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States moved today into a memorable week in the history of labor-management relations—the week when the last and biggest chunk of the Taft-Hartley law goes into effect.

The big date is Aug. 22, 60 days after Congress enacted the law over President Truman's protests.

Unions, for the first time under federal law, will be subject to prosecution before the National Labor Relations Board for such practices as coercing employees, refusing to bargain, forcing an employer to pay for work not actually performed, and engaging in jurisdictional strikes and certain kinds of boycotts.

Some provisions of the act took effect June 23, but the full weight of the vast policy changes decreed by the Republican-controlled Congress will not be felt until Friday.

The N.L.R.B., which has spent 12 years protecting the rights of workers who want to organize into unions, now will protect—in addition—the rights of workers who don't.

It also will protect the rights of employers.

On Friday the N.L.R.B. will split, in effect, into two separate agencies: A five-man board, which becomes a labor court, and the "office of the general counsel," headed by Robert N. Denham.

This office will investigate and prosecute cases before the five-man tribunal.

CLOSED SHOP OUT

After today, only three days remain in which unions and employers can sign closed shop, union shop and other "union security" contracts in the customary unrestricted manner. Contracts signed before Friday can run only one year.

Starting Friday, the making of new closed shop contracts is forbidden. In a closed shop contract the employer agrees to hire only union members and to fire all non-union members.

So far as the federal law is concerned, it will continue to be legal to sign union shop contracts, under which non-union men can be hired but must then join the union to keep their jobs. But an employer can sign such a contract only if a majority of the employees vote their approval.

Employers will still be subject to prosecution before the labor board for "unfair practices," as during the last 12 years.

DETROIT (CP)—Alvin Rowe, 43, of Toronto, former Ontario Provincial Police constable who was a central figure in C.C.F. "Gestapo" charges prior to the Ontario general election in June, 1945, drowned early today when a seaplane in which he was a passenger crashed in Lake St. Clair.

Also drowned was Rowe's son, Douglas, seven.

Injured were Rowe's brother, Howard, 36, pilot and owner of the plane, and his fiance, Betty Pioprowski, 20, of Detroit.

Alvin Rowe became widely known as a result of allegations by E. B. Joliffe, Ontaria C.C.F. leader, that Premier George Drew was using the Provincial Police as a "Gestapo" against his politcal opponents.

At a Royal Commission inquiry, Rowe gave evidence supporting Mr. Jolliffe's charges. He was suspended from the police force during the inquiry and later was dismissed. A short time later he became a provincial organizer for the C.C.F. He was in Sarnia, Ont., on party business last week.

Rowe is survived by his wife and two other children.

New Scheme For Stock Of Northern Railway

LONDON (CP) — Meetings have been called for Sept. 26 to consider a scheme modifying the rights of holders of the 5-per cent Consolidated mortgage debenture stock and the 6-per cent income debenture stock of the White Pass and Yukon Railway Co.

Main provisions of the proposed scheme are:

1. Repayment at par pro rata on 25 per cent of the amount now outstanding on the Consolidated mortgage debenture stock to be made Nov. 1, 1947.

2. Payment of the arrears of interest on the Consolidated stock up to Dec. 31, 1946, amounting to £315,163 ($1,260,652) (or 100 per cent of the outstanding stock) to be postponed until Dec. 31, when the stock is finally due for redemption, or until any earlier date agreed on for redemption.

3. Subject to cash resources, interest at 5 per cent per annum, calculated from Jan. 1, 1947, to be paid half-yearly on Consolidated stock.

4. Subject to profits and cash resources, the company to pay income debenture stockholders 1 per cent during the period of moratorium.

5. Any balance remaining to be applied in redemptions at par of the Consolidated stock.

To Display Work Of Salt Spring Artists

Representing the last exhibition to be held in the present quarters, a display of water-colors by a group of Salt Spring Island artists will open at the Little Centre Tuesday evening. The exhibition will be opened by P. Ustinov of Salt Spring Island, under whose tuition the island artists have made good progress. The display represents the work of a group of 13 artists organized last winter for weekly studio meetings at Ganges under the direction of Mr. Ustinov, whose art studies were formerly pursued at Stuttgart and in Paris. His address is titled "Self-Expression in Art."

What's in a Name?

HOW did the Manufacturers Life get its name? When the company was formed in 1887, most Canadians were dependent on agriculture for their livelihood. Sir John A. Macdonald was Prime Minister. His famous "National Policy" was being debated in every town and hamlet.

Sir John claimed that no country could be great with only one industry. Manufacturing activities were needed to balance the economy — broaden the market — utilize the bent of thousands towards manufacturing pursuits. Full national development called for "manufacturers". The choice of that name for the Company was in tune with the spirit of the times and was a tribute to Sir John who was the Company's first president.

The word "Manufacturers" stood for progress and The Manufacturers Life has progressed with the land that gave it birth. Its activities have spread far beyond her shores. It is known throughout the world as a sound financial institution.

copper-colored Indians who move about between the trees.

Among the tribes in the Amazon valley is one known as the Jivaro. It has been estimated that there are 10,000 Jivaros. The men, as well as the women, are short, and seldom reach a height of more than five feet and four inches.

The men in the Jivaro tribe let their coarse black hair grow long, fastening it together behind the head. They have broad noses and high cheekbones. Some of them paint their faces a deep red, and stain their teeth with a purple coloring.

The homes of Jivaro Indians have roofs made from branches of palm trees. The framework is made up of poles, and bark is used to cover the sides. A white man measured the home of a Jivaro chief, and found it to be 45 feet long and 15 feet wide. In that house lived 21 men, women and children.

In the Caraja tribe of the Brazil are medicine men who dress themselves in costumes made of dry grass. These costumes cover the face except for small holes in front of the eyes.

Caraja women believe that the calves of their legs should bulge out a good deal. To bring about such bulges, they tie bands of bark around their legs, below the knees.

The first airplane take-off from shipboard was made by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910.

The DOCTOR Says:

HOW POLIO DEFORMITIES ARE AVOIDED

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Prevention of deformities is the goal of the orthopedists caring for poliomyelitis patients. More efficient early treatment results in fewer patients requiring special orthopedic orperations and in fewer children who must be admitted to special schools or orthopedic hospitals.

Wallace H. Cole, M.D., University of Minnesota, points out that in the last few years the Kenny treatment of the acute stages of poliomyelitis has resulted in keeping certain deformities at a minimum and in making the patients more comfortable.

Reconstructive measures to overcome shortening of the affected muscles should be started as soon as conservative treatment is no longer effective. Muscles may be stretched as far as the patients can stand it or manipulated under anesthesia.

No treatment at the present time, and this includes the Kenny treatment, can restore completely paralyzed muscles to normal function. When it is evident that total disability is present, false hopes should not be given to the patient but rather a sound social and economic program should be planned. Special wheelchairs, tables, and rests should be devised to take advantage of remaining muscle power to help make care more efficient.

MOST RECOVERIES GOOD

Majority of paralyzed individuals recover with none or only slight disability. In the past, any result was considered good if the patient could get around. Today even though apparent recovery has taken place, slight stiffness in a joint or a mild curvature of the spine is treated until maximum recovery has taken place.

To further nerve growth, the Billig method of pounding the ends of the nerves in the muscles with a special hammer may be tried

Complete rehabilitation of the poliomyelitis patient includes training for partial or complete self-support. In the modern care program of poliomyelitis the rehabilitation worker is part of the team that cares for the patient from the beginning.

He takes his cues from the physician as to when the help the patient develop those skills which will be useful to him when he leaves the hospital. Psychiatric treatment may be needed to help the patient.

NATIVES OF AMAZON VALLEY MAKE MEALS OF TURTLE EGGS

In some parts of the great forest area of the Amazon River are coconut palms. The Indians of that region know the value of coconuts. When one of them is thirsty, he may climb up the trunk of a palm and pick a coconut. Getting down to the ground, he breaks open the "soft spots" and takes a drink of coconut milk.

Turtles of huge size are hunted by Amazon Indians. After the animals are killed, their flesh is eaten and their shells are turned into ladles and bowls.

White persons feel that turtle eggs would be poor things to eat, but these Indians use them for food. Going to river islands where the giant turtles lay their eggs, they gather as many as possible and take them home for a meal.

Chattering monkeys are heard in the jungle and woodland areas of the Amazon valley. Bright-colored birds fly from tree to tree, and now and then comes the scream of a jaguar. In some districts the trees grow so close together that their shade darkens the ground over many square miles. It is hard to see the

Three Injured, Car Totally Wrecked In Saturday Crash At Blackwood, Kings

Although his car was totally wrecked in a Saturday night accident at the intersection of Blackwood Street and Kings Road, the driver, R. G. Ashmore, climbed out without serious injuries. Following collision with another car, the vehicle above continued on, struck a fence, finally coming to rest against a telephone pole. A section of the fence can be seen on what was the hood of the car.

Three persons who received injuries in an automobile accident at the intersection of Blackwood Street and Kings Road, 6.35 p.m., Saturday, were reported today by the attending physician, Dr. T. W. A. Grey, as doing well. None were seriously injured.

Police say Richard G. Ashmore, 18, 3540 Doncaster Drive, was driving south along Blackwood, and William Scott, 1052 Newport Avenue, was driving east along Kings when the cars collided.

The Ashmore car was totally wrecked but only slight damage was done to the other.

Both men suffered fractured ribs and multiple sprains. They will be confined to hospital for at least several days.

Miss Phyllis Drysdale, a passenger in the Scott car, received a lacerated arm but was released from hospital following treatment.

Constables Arthur Newsome, John Mason, Napoleon Bouchard, W. W. Calwell and Lyle Somers attended at the scene of the accident.

Salvation Army Prepares For Drive

The first meeting of the publicity and divisional chairmen for the forthcoming Salvation Army Red Shield campaign was held at Prince Robert House at the weekend. Charles S. Henley, chairman for the campaign, asked each member present for a preliminary report and for suggestions.

Mrs. A. C. Ross, speaking on behalf of the women's division, stressed the need for additional canvassers to complete the house to house program, which is to be undertaken by the ladies. The women's division is being chaired by Mrs. Alan J. Campbell. Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board, gave an inspiring talk to the group, dealing with his first introduction to Salvation Army work when as County Crown Attorney in eastern Canada he found the army worthy of utmost praise for their work with delinquent young people who passed through his court.

Year in and year out the Salvation Army is constantly extending a helping hand to young and old who are in trouble.

Those present at the meeting were as follows: Sir Henry L. Drayton, Charles S. Henley, E. P. Stocker, H. Douglas Genn, Col. Russell Ker, Walter J. Fletcher, Frank J. Barker, Eric A. Cox, Robert Hibberson, E. A. Rathbone, Ron Williams, J. A. Hague, Mrs. A. C. Ross, Maj. F. Howlett, Maj. D. Hammond and Maj. C. J. Milley.

Legion Protests High Rentals Of Housing Enterprises

The Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion has sent a written protest to Housing Enterprises offices in Toronto about the allegedly high rentals being charged for the 104 houses being built here, B. R. Cozens, secretary, said today.

He said the organization had been asked to modify its rents to veterans, and also elimnate the requirement that each tenant be earning at least $180 a month before being considered for occupancy.

In his letter Mr. Cozens said the membership felt such a high income elminated the majority of veterans from being considered as tenants, and thus did not help them in their housing difficulties.

He said that the answer received from D. S. Keast, rentals supervisor, in Toronto, will be considered at the next meeting of the Legion branch Sept. 2 and a possible future course of action plotted

In his reply Mr. Keast said "it is recognized that our rents exceed the level which many returned servicemen can afford to pay." He stressed, however, that the houses have been built in a period when building costs have soared far above normal, which makes the rents reasonable.

He said the orignal idea of Housing Enterprises was to erect dwellings for veterans in the low to moderate income group, but it was found impossible to attain this objective and they faced the alternative of abandoning the housing project, or charging higher rentals. It was decided to carry on, he said, because "it was felt we would be rendering a greater service by carrying on in our endeavor and at least provide some additional dwelling units which, when occupied, would result in creation of vacancies elsewhere for families."

Mr. Keast said "we would be the last to support the present rental scale as being desirable," adding "we are not responsible for rising building costs, nor the gap between an economic rent for new accommodation and the rent a great many families can comfortably afford to pay."

He said that in most projects, despite the higher rents, the majority of units are rented to veterans, and he believed this will be the situation in Victoria.

Ex-servicemen will continue to have priority claim on the houses, he said, but it was felt by the rental agents that "we would be doing no kindness to offer for lease a house renting at a price which would prove burdensome," and as the rents are irreducible, applicants must be weeded out.

Tests For Veterinarians

CINCINNATI (AP) — An estimated 3,000 members of the American Veterinary Medical Association will submit to blood tests during their annual convention here this week to determine if any are carriers of brucellosis, a cattle disease which produces undulant fever in human beings. Association officials explained that in handling diseased animals veterinarians may have contracted germs and repeated exposure may have given them immunity.

Cardinals Do Or Die In Brooklyn Series

Today was double d-day in Brooklyn for both the Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals. The two top contenders were slated to meet head-on in the first of two real honest-to-goodness crucial sets which could decide the National League pennant.

The Cards must win at least three out of four of the current series at Ebbets Field if they are to make any appreciable dent in the Dodgers' present 4½-game cushion.

The Brooks expected Eddie Dyer of the Redbirds to lead with his aces in today's afternoon-night doubleheader. Dyer had Harry Brecheen primed to hurl the opener, Howie Pollet, another southpaw of some renown, was scheduled to hurl the night game for the Cards.

Vic Lombardi, pint-sized left-hander, has been nominated to oppose Brecheen in the opener. Harry Taylor, the Dodgers' most effective pitcher against the Cards, was named as the night game chucker.

The night affair, incidentally, is the one ordered by league president Ford Frick, coming out of his upholding of the Cards' protest over the Brooks 3 to 2 victory against St. Louis last July 20. Frick declared the game a 3 to 3 tie, ruling Ron Northey should have been credited with a ninth-inning home run instead of being declared out at home.

The Cards tightened the race yesterday by defeating the Pirates in Pittsburgh 6 to 5 while the Dodgers were being shut out by Philadelphia 4 to 0.

TWO TIES SEEN

Each team was forced to a no-decision contest in the second game of their doubleheaders. The Dodgers were held to a 4 to 4 tie in their nightcap while the Cards and Pirates engaged in a scoreless deadlock in their finale.

The rebounding Boston Braves swept two games from the slipping New York Giants in Boston 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 to make it four in a row over the New Yorkers, who now have dropped seven straight.

Cincinnati Reds took two from Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati, 2 to 0 and 11 to 3, as Ewell Blackwell registered his 19th victory and his sixth shutout in the opener.

New York Yankees had their American League first-place margin cut to 12½ games when Boston Red Sox shut them out 3 to 0 at the Yankee Stadium in an 11-inning thriller.

Detroit Tigers split with the White Sox in Chicago, taking the second game 4 to 3 after losing the opener 1 to 0.

Philadelphia Athletics moved within a game of the Tigers by winning two from the Senators in Washington, 2 to 1 and 5 to 2.

Finland Track Star Suspended For Life

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The newspaper Stockholm Tidningen, reported today that Finland's crack distance runner, Viljo Heino, had been suspended for life.

Heino holds world records of 29.34.5 for 10,000 metres, 28.38.6 for six miles, 49.41.6 for 10 miles, and 12 miles, 29 yards for a run of one hour.

No reason was given for the suspension.

Electrons, Vets Split Opening Games Of Softball Playoff

Army, Navy and Air Force Vets, city senior B softball champions and Findlay Electrons, Colwood and District League titleholders, divided the first two games of the best-of-five series for the lower island softball crown yesterday.

Playing at Langford, Electrons came through with a run in the last half of the 11th inning to edge the Vets, 4 to 3, in the first game. Billsborough, former city senior A hurler, went the route for Findlays.

Teams traveled to Sooke for the second game, which attracted about 500 spectators. Vets took the contest, 6 to 2, to square the series and set the stage for the all-important third game at Central Park tomorrow night at 6.30.

Veterans Of France Whip Langford Nine

Veterans of France trounced Langford, 27 to 9, in the second game of their best-of-three series for the lower island juvenile softball crown at Central Park yesterday to take the series, two straight.

Al Smith was the winning pitcher, with Robertson the loser. Winners will play the up-island representatives, either Port Alberni or Ladysmith, Sunday.

Roy Clarke Medalist In Junior Golf Play

In the qualifying round of the Uplands Club junior handicap golf championship Roy Clarke was medalist with a net 62. Gordon Dods, city junior champion, and Grant Craig tied for second each with a 64. Dods had the low gross with his 71 and as he is leaving the city on vacation has scratched from the match play.

Match play opens this week. Draw follows: Roy Clarke vs. David Finney; Ron MacLeod vs. Alex McCabe; Grant Craig vs. David Lister; Hugh Johnston vs. A. Jacklin.

Esquimalt Take Two From Ladysmith Nine

Jim Lackie's Esquimalt Meat Market took a two-game lead in their quest for island senior A softball honors yesterday at Ladysmith by defeating the up-islanders, 9 to 7, in the afternoon behind the eight-hit pitching of Ray Byers and taking the evening tussle, 6 to 4, in 11 innings with George Kinch on the hill. Third and fourth games of the seven-game series will be played at Central Park Sunday.

Highlight of the first game victory was Esquimalt's six run rally in the fifth inning which broke a 2 to 2 tie and gave them their winning margin. Ladysmith came back with a pair in their half of the frame and added singletons in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings but could not bunch their blows off Byers effectively. Winners pushed across their final run in the sixth.

Bill Rafferty with a triple and two singles and Vic Dale with two singles and a double paced the Esquimalt 14-hit attack on Battie and Harper.

George Kinch came out of a sick bed to toss the city champions to their second victory of the day. The game was nip and tuck with Esquimalt taking the lead in the first inning with Gar Taylor scoring on a single by catcher Young.

LEAD CHANGES

Ladysmith went ahead 2 to 1 in the second with L. Copp singling home Pete Hawryluk and McDonald. In the seventh inning Esquimalt bounced back with two markers with Vic Dale and Chick Newman scoring on a double by Ellis. Ladysmith got two unearned markers in their half of the inning when Young threw the ball into right field when fielding a sacrifice hit.

Winners tied it up at 4 to 4 in the eighth with Taylor circling the sacks. The score remained tied until the 11th when Vic Dale opened with a double, Mair struck out, Dale went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an infield out. Ellis walked, advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball.

Winners picked up seven hits off Harper of Ladysmith with Young garnering two. Kinch allowed six bingles in his winning stand.

Pike Green Winner Of Main Auto Race

Moving into first place on the fifth lap and holding off all competition Pike Green captured the 30-lap reverse main event at Saturday night's auto racing program at the Langford Speedway. His victory ended the victory streak of Jack Spaulding who had taken the feature event three weeks in succession.

During the running of the main event Green was challenged in succession by Eddie Rossano of Tacoma and Digger Caldwell but kept his foot down hard on the throttle to retain first place.

Green was also the winner of the third heat race. Ken McMurray paced the time trials and won the first heat. Howie Stanley topped the field in the second heat while Jack Patterson took the fourth and Rossano the fifth.

Hollywood Rises Up To Turn Back Los Angeles Twice

The double-edged palm, or whatever it's fashionable to give this season for inconsistency, should go to the Hollywood Stars.

Every time Hollywood fans are on the verge of disowning the club, the Stars bounce back like they did yesterday — smacking down the Coast League-leading Los Angeles Angels twice by the score of 2 to 1.

Hollywood came from behind in both games to win in overtime and got full-length pitching jobs from Rugger Ardizoia and Xavier Rescigno.

The second-place Seals split with Oakland, 6 to 7 and 6 to 2, to take the series four to three.

Portland's bustling Beavers, who had won 19 of their last 23 contests, were cooled off abruptly by San Diego, as the Padres took a pair, 4 to 2 in 10 innings, and 3 to 0.

Sacramento's Ken Holcombe twirled a five-hitter to whitewash Seattle, 4 to 0, but the Rainiers came back in the closer for a 3 to 1 win behind Bill Posedel. The Rainiers grabbed the series, five games to three.

Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Jackson Named To B.C. Golf Team

Mrs. Jack Todd and Mrs. E. Jackson of Victoria and Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan and Miss Babe Davies of Vancouver were today named to the British Columbia women's golf team that will compete in the inter-provincial matches at Toronto, Sept. 12 and 13, following the final 36 holes of play over the Colwood course Sunday.

The Vancouver pair of O'Callaghan and Davies finished in a tie for first place with identical medal scores of 344 for the 72 holes. Mrs. Jackson, with 352 was third, with Mrs. Todd, B.C. amateur golf queen fourth with 355.

Mrs. Jackson, with rounds of 88 and 86 paced the golfers in the final 36 holes. Mrs. O'Callaghan had 18-hole scores of 86 and 90, with Miss Davies firing 90 and 88 and Mrs. Todd 88 and 93.

Other scores in the final day's play were Mrs. Todd-Finney, 91, 95; Mrs. F. Insley, Vancouver, 95, 95; Miss Claire Martin, Vancouver, 92, 92, and Mrs. G. Harris, 89, 96.

Following the inter-provincial team classic the quartette will compete in the Canadian amateur Sept. 15 to 19.

Bob Brousseau To Attend Yankees Try-Out School

Bob Brousseau, 17-year-old southpaw pitcher, will attend the try-out school of the New York Yankees at Agua Caliente, California, the week of Aug. 21 to 28, it was announced today by Reg Patterson, business manager of the Victoria Athletics.

Brousseau, member of the Eagles club in the local amateur league, turned out for the Athletics' baseball school last week, and so imprssed both Patterson and manager Ted Norbert of the Victoria pro club, it was decided to send him south.

At Agua Caliente Brousseau will work out under the supervision of such famous baseball authorites as Burleigh Grimes, former major league hurler; Joe Devine, chief Yankee scout on the Pacific Coast, and Eddie Leishman, supervisor of the Yankees' farm system on the coast.

A big gangling youngster, Brousseau has a good fast ball and curve. Gifted with exceptionally long arms and big hands he figures to go places in baseball if brought along under the right supervision. According to Norbert the youngster really has the makings of a good professional pitcher, providing a smart coach instructs him on the finer points of working on the mound.

In attendance at Agua Caliente will be all the youngsters the Yankee scouts have lined up during the holding of summer schools throughout the United States.

All-Star Ball Clubs Play 2 Games Here

All-star baseball teams from the Western International Baseball League, representing the west and east will play two games at Athletic Park, Sept. 12 and 13, it was announced today by Reg Patterson, business manager of the Victoria Athletics.

The clubs were originally scheduled to play one engagement here but the two games were arranged when it was learned the Vancouver Park was not available owing to the Dominion soccer playoffs.

Third baseman Babe Jensen, outfielder Johnny Hooper and pitcher Bill Woop of the A's have been invited to play for the team representing the west, which will be managed by Hub Kittle of Bremerton.

Five C's Defeat Oak Bay To Boost Cricket Loop Lead

Five C's bolstered their margin at the top of the Victoria and District Cricket League standings with a one-sided victory over runner-up Oak Bay Saturday. After dismissing the Bays for 56 runs with Brewin and Parkins the only members to reach double figures the churchmen put on 112. George Payne's 46 highlighted the innings of the winners with Inglis putting on 19 for second high bat.

Royal Canadian Navy came up with their first victory of the season, defeating the ex-R.A.F. 69 to 30. Going into bat first the Navy's innings was marked by Brewer's 21. Tisdall, Navy bowler, captured six wckets for five runs. The former fliers were forced to play with only nine men.

In a third match University School Incogs swamped Albions under an 111 to 46 score. Reg Wenman knocked up 41 runs for the winners before retiring. Godfrey Wenman contributed 23 runs while McIlvenny was top scorer for Albions with 15.

Legion Defeats Pitzer And Nex In Ball Playoff

Scoring four unearned runs in the fifth frame, Canadian Legion baseballers moved to within a game of the finals in the Rithet Cup playoffs yesterday, when they turned back Rosy McLellan's Pitzer and Nex nine, 5 to 2. Tonight at 6.30, Eagles will meet Navy in the second game of their best-of-three series at Macdonald Park. First game ended in a draw.

It was a tough loss for young Al Turcotte, losers' hurler, as he came through with a four-hitter against the hard-hitting Legion nine. Three errors by his mates, together with two singles and a pair of walks provided the margin of victory. Turcotte took four on strikes and walked three. Lloyd Cann gained credit for win, giving up eight safeties, fanning three and passing a like number.

Pitzer and Nex went one up in the third frame, Len Glancy drawing a life when Cann dropped his high pop fly, taking second on a fielder's choice, and scoring on Glenn Charlton's base knock. Losers held their lead till the fifth, up to which time Turcotte held Legion hitless.

Ex-servicemen scored their fifth run in the sixth, Ron Castner's long fly to left driving in Chuck Restell from third. Gasmen notched their final counter in the eighth, Turcotte leading off with a single and taking second on Charlton's infield hit. Both advanced when Bill Reynolds walked and Dal Bertrand singled sharply to score Turcotte. A nice peg by centrefielder Jack Walker cut down Charlton at the plate.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Pitzer and Nex	2	8	6
Legion	5	4	4

Batteries: Turcotte and Bertrand; Cann and Smith.

Black And Whites In Second Victory

Black and White Taxi made it two straight over Marigold-Colquitz of the Colwood and District League yesterday at Marigold in the junior boys' softball playoff, defeating the suburbanites, 22 to 19. Third game of the best-of-five series will take place at lower Central Tuesday. Winners will meet Youbou in the lower island final starting Sunday.

Athletics-Vancouver Open Crucial Series

Victoria Athletics face the turning point in their bid for a Western International League baseball pennant with the opening of an eight-game series with Vancouver Capilanos at Athletic Park tonight. Whether or not the A's are going to be right in there in the final dash to the wire will hinge on the outcome of these games. The same holds true for the Caps so the battles take on the aspect of a little world series.

Athletics closed out their home stand against Salem Saturday with a split, winning the nightcap 8 to 6 after dropping the afternoon tilt 9 to 5. A's took the series three games to one.

This week's series will see the clubs play a single game tonight, two Tuesday evening and another single game Wednesday. They move to Vancouver for single games Thursday and Friday and two next Saturday. The doubleheader scheduled at the mainland city Thursday night has been called off.

A's go into the series with their pitching staff in good shape. Southpaw Bill Woop will go tonight with Len Kasparovitch and Dick Mitchell slated to work the doubleheader Tuesday and likely Joe Blankenship on Wednesday.

COME FROM BEHIND

After turning in a lackadaisical exhibition in the afternoon, the A's showed plenty of courage in coming from behind to win Saturday night. In the daylight engagement the A's ran up against some mighty smooth pitching on the part of lefty Ken Wyatt, but also contributed to their own downfall with five errors behind Jim Arnold and reliefer Ray Fortier. After Bill White hit one of the longest home runs of the season to give the A's a 1 to 0 lead in the first, they went scoreless for four frames as Salem built up a 5 to 1 margin. Victoria finally got to Wyatt for runs in the sixth, only to have Salem add three in the top of the seventh.

Salem catcher Bill Beard had a big afternoon at the plate with five for five, including a home run and double. Eddie Barr also hit for the circuit.

With the score tied 2 to 2 after six innings at night and Bob Jensen and Hunk Anderson locked in a tight pitching duel, the clubs cut loose with a lot of run-making in the seventh. Salem loaded the bags and Barr hit one out of the park for four runs. Before the inning closed, Jensen had gone to the showers, to be replaced by Fortier.

In the bottom of the seventh Fortier started a rally that tied the score. After the pitcher had pushed a double into left field, Patterson singled and Hooper walked to load the bags with one out. White and Mastro followed with singles to score three runs. Babe Jensen worked Anderson for a walk to force in the tying run after Harshman had been purposely passed. Sporer was rushed in for Anderson and forced Cavalli to hit into a double play.

A's won it in the eighth when Righetti opened with a double and Pat Patterson lined the ball over the centre field fence for a home run. Joe Blankenship, who was sent in for Fortier in the top half of the eighth, was the winning pitcher.

SPOKANE WINS PAIR

Spokane's Indians, completely ignoring Bremerton's jinx on visitng team, swept a twin bill from the Bluejackets 6 to 1 and 3 to 2 in 10 innings Sunday to take a half-game lead in the ever-tightening league chase.

Spokane even took the jinx over to its own side—breaking up the 10-inning second game with Bill Dunn's ground ball that hit the third base sack and soared into left field over the head of third baseman Jim Estrada with George Schmees scoring from second.

Spokane won the first game on Bill Werbowski's five-hit pitching.

Tacoma and Yakima split in the day's only other contests, Tacoma winning a 7 to 0 opener on Cy Greenlaw's two-hit performance but losing a 14 to 6 decision in a second game slugfest. The division gave Tacoma the series three games to two.

Stranahan Made Good On Ezinicki's Errors

ROYAL QUEBEC GOLF CLUB, Boischatel, Que. (CP)—The official record today told the story of the 1947 Canadian amateur golf championship but the cold figures showed Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, was far and away better than anything the Dominion could produce.

Over the 36-hole journey Saturday Stranahan came to the end of a week-long trail in match-play competition by defeating Bill Ezinicki of Toronto's Scarboro Club 6 and 5 on the 31st green.

There was no question of the American's superiority. He played steady, consistent golf—always under or near par medal-score figures—and let Ezinicki suffer from his own mistakes.

Ezinicki, the 23-year-old Winnipeg-born boy who tosses his 175 pounds against all and sundry in the National Hockey League competition during the winter season, showed only flashes of the form that carried him to an 8 and 7 victory Friday over Henry Martell of Edmonton, the 1946 champion.

Ezinicki could seldom co-ordinate his play in the final. When his long game was strong, his putting was weak or mediocre, and yet it was his putting, particularly on the second nines that kept him within shouting distance of Stranahan.

HIS POOREST ROUNDS

Seldom was Ezinicki able to capitalize on the few mistakes the blond American made. Stranahan tossed a three-over-par medal score for the 31 holes against Ezinicki — Stranahan's worst of the tournament—that Ezinicki could not match.

The Canadian shotmaker was three over par for his 18-hole morning round, disregarding the disastrous eighth hole where he never played the fairways or green.

Stranahan took the first two holes of each round and played it safely all the way. He was never worse than two up after the first two holes of the morning play and Ezinicki was forced to take chances continually.

At the lunch interval Stranahan was three up for 18 and he raised his margin to seven up through the 27th in the afternoon.

Beckett Repeats Rifle Victory In Governor's Match

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP) — CSM. Norman Beckett, unassuming sharpshooter of Hamilton, Ont., who once was rejected for army service overseas because of poor eye sight, Saturday won the Governor-General's Gold Medal—a repeat performance—feature round of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

A member of the Royal Canadian Hamilton Light Infantry, the 37-year-old sniper duplicated the feat he performed in 1939 when the shoot was discontinued for the duration of the war. He led home a field of 150 marksmen who had qualified Thursday for the final, tense test.

He posted a score of 168, seven short of a possible, over 300, 600 and 900 yards to pace the pack and take first prize money of $200. In 1939 he was only one point off a possible.

In addition to winning the feature, the Hamilton shot also placed at the top of the ladder in the Bisley aggregate, the first 18 of which will represent Canada at the Bisley meet in England next year. He was followed by Flt.-Lt. D. Reynolds of Ottawa, Sgt. R. S. Potter of Hamilton and Sgt. W. E. George of Winnipeg.

The only woman member in the final, Mrs. G. S. Hethey of Victoria, placed well down the list with 157. In 1938 she tied for first place, but was not eligible for the gold medal, reserved for members or former members of the armed forces. Since then, however, the award has been opened to any British subject.

2 Hours To Save Dog

TORONTO (CP)—A blind Boston terrier that fell over the Scarboro cliffs to a shelf 25 feet below was rescued by his master, G. E. Deyell, Toronto, after two hours of concerted effort by a party of volunteers. Mr. Deyell finally managed the rescue by hanging over the cliff with his two sons, David and Dick, holding his legs.

Man Hurt, Car Wrecked In Crash

As this truck was damaged, a car was wrecked in an early Sunday morning collision on the Island Highway, near Langford. Arthur Cole, driver of the car, is in hospital.

One man was sent to hospital with head injuries and two girls suffered bruises, in a spectacular collision in front of the Langford Speedway at 2.35 Sunday morning, in which a car was completely demolished.

Arthur C. Cole, driver of the car, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from serious head injuries and is reported to be progressing as well as can be expected.

Helen Beatty and Betty Hallet who are staying at Shawnigan Lake, suffered bruises. They were passengers in the truck driven by Leslie J. Gordon of Vancouver.

Gordon was unhurt.

According to Constable Jack Lockie of the Provincial Police Highway patrol, who attended the scene with Constable Henry Smith, the car driven by Cole, traveling south on the Island Highway and the truck driven by Gordon, traveling north on the highway, collided while rounding a gradual curve.

The collision occurred 11½ miles out of Victoria. The car was completely demolished and the truck extensively damaged, according to police. The truck was owned by Williams and Carrothers Ltd. of Vancouver.

Enforcement Sept. 1 Of Oil-Burner Orders For Chicken Houses

Orders of the provincial fire marshal governing the installation of oil burning equipment in poultry establishments—hoisted for a year following representations of Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam and the poultry producing industry—will be enforced as of Sept. 1, according to information received by the provincial Agriculture Department today.

In the meantime, Mr. Putnam announced that he would meet representatives of the poultry industry next Friday in New Westminster. It is believed representations regarding the fire marshal's order will be the main topic of discussion.

Following tests conducted by the B.C. Research Council certain types of oil burning brooders were banned for installation because of fire hazards. This ban, however, was hoisted for one year following the representations of Mr. Putnam.

The fire marshal ordered, however, that if the burners were equipped with proper valves and other protection devices and the installations were effected in accordance to his instructions, permits for installing the equipment would be granted.

The action of W. A. Walker, the fire marshal, followed several fires on chicken ranches which were attributed to the oil burners.

Mr. Walker reported that some oil burners for chicken brooders offered on the market in B.C. today were of faulty construction and arrangement of the equipment was hazardous.

Injured Cyclist Granted Suspension

Youthful Melvin F. Newton, a motorcyclist who was in an accident June 5, was granted a suspended sentence when he appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court this morning.

City prosecutor Claude Harrison noted that the accident occurred while Newton was trying to outdistance a motorcycle policeman who was pursuing him for dangerous driving on Douglas Street.

Newton, on crutches, pleaded guilty to the charge read against him.

In answer to questions from the magistrate, he stated he had only just been released from hospital and that he had not paid his bill.

"Do you intend to pay your bill at the hospital?" the magistrate asked.

"When I get back to work I will pay it, but I can't work for three months yet," said Newton.

"You have already suffered considerably and you will have quite a hospital bill to pay," said Magistrate Hall. "Under these circumstances I will grant you a suspended sentence. Your driver's license will be taken away from you for six months, however. This time you received the injuries—it might just as easily have been some innocent person."

Ald. Edward Williams has received a letter from the Lord Provost of Glasgow in answer to a letter sent by Ald. Williams, via air cadets to the Scottish city. The Lord Provost commented how glad he had been to welcome the Canadian air cadets, "a fine body of young men, excellent ambassadors for your country." He spoke of welcoming many Canadian servicemen during the war years, and extended greetings to Victoria.

'People's Courts' Run By Guerrillas In Northern Greece

By L. S. CHAKALES

ATHENS (AP) — Guerrilla fighters in northern Greece were, by their own account, setting up people's courts in their territory today under a temporary military regime represented as the forerunner of a "provisional democratic government."

Their "democratic army" said in a radio broadcast Sunday that these courts, of three members each under a people's commissar, would handle cases calling for sentences of up to five years' imprisonment, while military courts would handle more serious cases.

This report came from the same station that last Friday night broadcast that Communist Gen. Markos Vigiades, guerrilla commander, had taken up the adminstration of a "democratic government" from his headquarters until a provisional government could be formed with a "popular national assembly."

Athens newspapers meanwhile reported that guerrillas beaten back before Grevena in the northwest July 27 by government troops had captured two villages and strategic heights in the Grammos and Smolikas mountains in a renewed attack.

Other reports Sunday night said the Greek National Defence Council was planning to increase Greece's 155,000-man army by another 50,000 to bring heavier forces against the guerrillas.

Salonika advices declared that Yugoslav frontier posts had given mortar and rifle support to insurgents who Saturday raided Aghia Paraskevi, Greece, north of Phlorina, and that guerrillas last week had captured 14 workers on the Phorlina-Edessa railroad.

Pacific Air Crash Killing 10 May Delay Peace Talk

HONOLULU (AP)—Ambassador George Atcheson Jr. and three ranking officers from Gen. MacArthur's strategic and operations staff were among 10 lost in the crash of a United States army transport at sea, 65 miles west of Pearl Harbor, late Saturday night.

The disaster raised immediate speculation as to the possible effect, particularly as to time schedule, on American plans for the signing of a Japanese peace treaty at the earliest practical date.

Atcheson, who represented the United States at Pacific four-power conferences and a number of other vital meetings since the occupation of Japan, was en route to Washington accompanied by a small, expert staff of key army officers, to discuss preliminaries to a Japanese peace treaty, high on the list of U.S. diplomatic objectives.

There were eight crew members and five passengers aboard the converted B-17 when the bomber ran out of gasoline and, in rough seas, made the ill-fated landing. Only three men were known to be saved. Five bodies were recovered. A sixth was sighted but sank before it could be recovered. Searchers today were trying to find the five missing, including Atcheson.

The other three passengers were Col. Carl A. Russell, Col. David Larr and navy Capt. Randolph B. Boyer.

Russell was an assistant chief of staff, Allied headquarters, and all three were members of headquarters' joint strategic plan and operations group.

Atcheson, in addition to advising MacArthur on political matters, served as chairman of the four-power Allied Council for Japan. As such he was a veteran of many a polite disagreement with the Russian—and sometimes British and Chinese—delegates. He was one of the foremost U.S. experts on Far Eastern affairs.

Gordie Lawrance Wins

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vivian King of Winnipeg, three-time winner of the Manitoba junior half-mile, Saturday added the western Canada mile to her swim laurels by outstripping Vancouver's outstanding feminine splasher, Irene Strong.

Miss King was well in front from the start and finished 20 feet ahead of Miss Strong. Joan Morgan of Victoria placed third. Catherine Kerr of Winnipeg, also considered a threat for the endurance test, developed cramps at the half-way point and was pulled from the water.

In the men's mile, Gordie Lawrance of Victoria churned to victory with another Victorian, Jack Wellburn, second, and Vic Chatt of Ocean Falls, B.C., third.

Town Topics

After more than an hour's discussion today on the Arena question, a special conference called by Mayor Percy George, adjourned until Wednesday. No statement was issued.

The Canadian Pensioners' Association has asked the City Council to endorse a resolution requesting that veterans' allowance as defined by the 1946 act be raised to $600 per annum for single men, and $1,200 per year for married.

The parks committee recommended to today's City Council meeting that W. H. Warren, parks administrator, be sent to the convention of the American Institution of Parks Commissioners being held in San Francisco, Sept. 21 to 25.

Third of a series of free concerts by the band of the Victoria Musicians, under H. Begsby, was given for the patients and staff of the Jubilee Hospital on the hospital grounds. A further concert may be given at the Solarium in the near future.

Y.M.C.A. members and friends are invited to take part in a trip on the cabin cruiser Songhee on Wednesday. The cruiser will leave from the slipway in front of the Empress Hotel at 2, sail to Friday Harbor, Wash., and return to the city at 10. Refreshments will be served on board.

The city's two electrical inspectors, two plumber inspectors, and the assistant building inspector, today filed applications with the City Council for an increase in their car allowance, to bring it up to $35 a month. They claimed they cannot operate their cars on the city's business on the amount now received.

The Recreation Council has asked the City Council to appoint two representatives to attend the meeting Aug. 28 at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 to discuss the possibility of co-ordinating all playgrounds in the Greater Victoria area and having the provincial government appoint and pay a playground co-ordinator and take a lead in the work.

Building permits have been issued to D. P. McLean to build a 6-room house at 854 Somenos Street, $7,000; to Carl Parsons to build a 4-room house at 1131 Finlayson Street, $6,000; to C. Anderson to build a 4-room house at 3155 Carroll Street, $6,000; and to the Seventh Day Adventists to build a Sunday school at 1460 Hillside Avenue, $4,000.

City police are on the lookout for an old model Ford car which is minus its spare tire. The tire came off the car, bumped along the road and rolled through a 12x8-foot window in the home of Hugh McGuire, 414 Craigflower Road, Saturday night. A witness told police the driver of the car did not stop when the tire came off.

D.V.A. Social Club first annual picnic at Mt. Douglas Park Sunday was an outstanding success. Two hundred attended. E. Drage was chairman and a long sports program was enjoyed in which the feature event, the men's tug-of-war for the "Okell Challenge Cup" was won by the Veterans' Hospital staff, taking the Belmont Building men in two straight pulls. Miss Yockney was selected as the bathing beauty queen. S. H. Okell, assistant district administrator, Department of Veterans' Affairs, distributed the prizes.

Congdon Uncorks 64 For Golf Win; Leonard Fourth

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lanky Chuck Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., won the $10,000 Portland Open Sunday with a 72-hole score of 270.

Congdon finished with a blazing 64, eight under par for the Portland Country Club course, to take first money of $2,000.

The 64, for which he coupled a pair of 32s, overtook the leader of the first three rounds, Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., on the final nine. At the 63rd hole, he had pulled up on even terms with Palmer after the latter had started the final 18 with a two-stroke lead, 204 to Congdon's 206. Palmer finished with a 34-38—72 for a total of 276.

It put him into a tie with Herman Keiser, Akron, O., Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N.C., and George Payton, Hampton, Va.

Al Smith of Winston-Salem, N.C., finished with 278 and the national P.G.A. champion, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, ended in a deadlock at 279 with Stan Leonard of Vancouver, and Larry Lamberger, Portland. A bad second round of 74 hurt Leonard's chances, otherwise he had three in the high 60's.

Leonard carded a 68 yesterday to catch the four-place spot and $450 of the prize money.

Congdon is the present Washington State, Oregon State Open champion; holder of the Pacific Northwest P.G.A. title and deciding British Columbia Open champ.

Palestine Police Picketing Mosques Fear Arab Violence

JERUSALEM (AP)—Police were reported officially today to be stationing themselves around most of Palestine's mosque areas for fear that Moslem Arabs, their month-long religious festival over, might intensify attacks on Jews.

The feast month of Ramadan in the Moslem calendar, during which Mohammedans take food only at night, ended Sunday. Simultaneously the week's toll of violent deaths grew to 35, and of these 24 were Arabs.

Sunday's only reported killing was that of an Arab stabbed in the Yemenite Jewish quarter of Tel Aviv, but several persons were listed as wounded, most of them Jews.

In the twilight zone between Jewish Tel Aviv and Arab Jaffa, a Jew was beaten badly by Arabs and a Jewish woman shot in the face in an attack on two Jewish buses and a military truck.

In Arab Lydda, two persons in a Jewish taxicab were wounded by stones.

In their precautions against post-Ramadan violence, the police were getting unofficial help from two communal military forces—the Jewish Hagana and the Arab Nejada.

William E. Collings, superintendent of the Borough of Collingswood, N.J., has written to Mayor Percy George asking for information about the cost of maintaining the flower baskets, and also the initial cost. He said at the recent visit to the city with the American Waterworks Association he was impressed with the prettiness of the hanging baskets.

3 Survived Mine Blast Because 36 Others Refused To Take Heed

WHITEHAVEN, Cumberland, Eng. (CP)—John Birkett, God-fearing Cumberland miner, led two companions to safety after the blast which killed 104 of his mates in the William pit, Friday. But the three survived only because 36 other miners disregarded Birkett's advice to follow him.

Birkett, 42, noted among his fellow-miners for his deep religion, found a pocket of fresh air where James Weighman, 24, Daniel Hinde, 40, and he could live until poisonous gases cleared.

But if the other 36 had done as Birkett suggested, veteran miners said today, the whole party would have died. There was not enough oxygen in the pocket to keep all 39 alive.

SAW BODIES

As it was, Birkett, Weighman and Hinde walked past the corpses of others until they reached a group of searchers who could not comprehend they were survivors and casually greeted them as fellow rescue workers.

As soon as he heard the explosion and felt a wave of hot air late Friday afternoon, Birkett said, he realized gas would rush toward the shaft, overtaking anyone who fled that way. But he knew from long underground experience that cool air would momentarily fill the vacuum created by the blast and give them time to reach a cul-de-sac on higher ground.

"I took my Davy lamp and headed into the pit with Weighman and Hinde," he said. "On the way in we passed these 36 lads rushing out.

"Come with me," I shouted. 'Nay, marra (mate), we are going outside,' they said. When we came out nearly 21 hours later their bodies were huddled along the road."

Birkett led his companions into the cul-de-sac where some fresh air remained. They dozed a bit, but never slept deeply and their only food was "snaps"—a sandwich of bread and cheese.

HANDKERCHIEFS OVER FACES

"I kept coming out to sniff the air,' said Birkett. "At last when the air got a little clearer, I went out with my Davy lamp. I had to take several tries because the gas was so concentrated the lamp could not burn.

"Finally we decided to chance it. We took handkerchiefs and soaked them in puddles in the roadway and fastened them over our faces.

"We went through gas like that to the main haulage where we felt a current of fresh air and realized we would be able to get out. Then we saw lights in the distance and knew the rescuers were there.

The provincial Health Department said today that no new cases of poliomyelitis in British Columbia had been reported during the week-end and up to noon today, although it is expected later today confirmation of some new cases may be received.

Laundry Union Legal Entity Says Chief Justice

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan today handed down his reasons for judgment in the appeal of Mrs. Eula Patterson, president of the Nanaimo Dry Cleaning and Laundry Workers' Union, Local No. 1, which was dismissed by the Court of Appeal, Aug. 12.

The judgment reads:

"From a careful examination of the provisions of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, 1947, I have reached the conclusion that for the purposes of that act and proceeding thereunder, a trade union, acting as a 'bargaining agent or bargaining authority' as defined in Section 2 thereof, has been endowed by the Legislature, by the terms of the enactment in question, with the status, attributes and responsibilities of a persona judica.

"It is in consequence for relevant purposes, an entity having a separate legal existence distinct from its members.

"The trade union involved in the dispute out of which this case arose is a trade union acting as a bargaining authority within the meaning of the act.

"It follows, therefore, in my opinion that it is a legal entity, subject to the provisions and sanctions of the said Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, 1947.

"I agree with my brothers that question of service is procedural in character and is for the learned magistrate to consider and determine in the first instance."

The question of the method of serving the summons was raised by R. J. McMaster, counsel for Mrs. Patterson, at the appeal.

Cummins Finds Victoria Best Place For Vacation

Hollywood star Robert Cummins, left, and his wife, stepping out of plane, are greeted by Mrs. W. C. Mainwaring, right, as they arrived at Patricia Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Cummins flew up here in a Beechcraft piloted by Mr. Cummins.

The beauties of Victoria have won over the holiday hearts of Hollywood actor Robert Cummins and his pretty wife. Arriving at Patricia Bay Sunday afternoon, they realized the ambition they expressed here last year to return to Victoria, but flying their own plane this time.

Mr. Cummins, a flying instructor for the A.A.F. during the war, flew up in a twin-engine Beechcraft loaned to him by his film company, United California Productions. He made a non-stop trip from San Francisco to the local airfield in four hours and 22 minutes.

This morning, Mr. Cummins and his wife, besieged by autograph seekers and other callers, were in the process of asking to have their telephone disconnected, but after undergoing the barrage for a time, the actor decided to give up the idea of a good rest for a while.

However, holiday plans made for the Hollywood couple by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mainwaring hold forth hopes of the good rest they are looking for. This Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Cummins will leave with the Victoria couple for a motor tour through the Rockies which, heretofore, Mr. Cummins has only seen in pictures.

He is looking forward to seeing the beauties of that majestic country first-hand and is also feeling happy about the fishing prospects.

When he was here last year, the actor was expressing great enthusiasm for a forthcoming picture in which he was taking part as both producer and actor. The picture was "The Chase." However, said Mr. Cummins, "When I saw it, I thought it was awful."

His disappointment did not stop him making more pictures. Since "The Chase," he has made three more: "Sleep, My Love," which he finished a week ago last Saturday; "Heaven Only Knows," and "Lost Moment."

In none of the last three pictures has Mr. Cummins taken the part of producer. In his contract with United, he may produce, direct or act. He hasn't had time to do all three, so has stuck to acting for the time being.

Finding Victoria and district everything he had remembered it to be from last year, Mr. Cummins is already expressing determination to take his holiday here again.

Rainbow Playground Closing Exercises

Three hundred parents and friends attended the closing of Rainbow Playground when a talented cast of playground children presented "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," under the direction of Mrs. J. Rodgers and Miss Betty Boulet, supervisor.

The cast included Babs Smith, Alice Green, Ruby Newton, Gary Daly, Wayne and Brian Scharback, Barry Waters, Robbie Hamilton Dougie Poole Donald Horshal, Delores and Gail Scharback, Dawn Poole, Patsy Oak, Margaret Bratton, Mildred Lang, Marilyn Saunders, Helen Rowse, Warren Lang, Jimmy Loiselle. About 30 younger children were fairies, bunnies, bambi, skunks, bluebirds, etc.

A display of work included carpentry, clay modelling and many other useful items done on the playground.

Mrs. L. Loiselle, chairman, presented the mothers who helped on the playground with corsages made by the children, and thanked the fathers for their help.

Miss Boulet was presented with a gift from the committee. Ice cream and pop was given to the children, hot dogs and coffee for adults. The evening closed with community singing.

A general meeting will be held on the playground Tuesday to elect a committee for the coming year.

Development Planned Of Seed Production On Hornby Island

Three experts of the Dominion and provincial agriculture departments this week will visit Hornby Island, off Vancouver Island's east coast, to discuss the growing of certified seed potatoes, seeds and bulbs on that island's 7,500 acres.

Addressing the small community of farmers will be H. S. McLeod, Dominion potato inspector; James Travis, field crop commissioner for the provincial agriculture department, and Dave Gibbons, district agriculturist for the provincial government.

Interest in the production of specialized crops on the island has increased lately and several surveys have been made.

Dr. J. B. Munro, provincial deputy minister of agriculture, said: "There is a real possibility for seed, potatoes and bulb growing there. The island is fertile, early and moist."

Four thousand acres of the mountainous interior of the island forms a natural reservoir to supply the rich sandy loam farm lands of the valley, only a small portion of which have been developed.

In the Hornby Island community are several expert agriculturists who are interested in developing the specialized crops which are considered to be the most valuable sources of income for the population.

Dr. Munro says that farmers there have done exceptionally well producing early vegetables such as corn, tomatoes and potatoes. Early potato crops have been harvested in May, he said, the bulk of the output of the island's gardens going to the markets in the Comox district.

But the farmers of the island are interested in expanding their productions of certified seed potatoes, which are in great demand not only in Canada but also in the U.S. and other foreign markets.

Bulb production of daffodils, tulips, iris and hyacinths are also considered for expansion, while other seeds such as sweet peas and asters are considered possible new varieties for production.

Tourist Unhappy At Victoria Experience

At least one U.S. tourist is not very happy about his visit to Victoria and Vancouver Island according to the tale of woe he told Mayor Percy George in a letter:

He said first he got three punctures on his way to Port Alberni "thanks to your rotten roads." This was followed by "a badly sprained foot on one of your beautiful sidewalks in the city of Victoria—one of your marvellous uneven sidewalks where you trip at every step, unless you watch the pavement instead of the stores."

He said he felt like suing the city after half an hour in town. "If you want us here, give us something better than broken sidewalks to trip on, or we won't come again," he concluded.

J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, today requested permission from the City Council to attend the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference Oct. 21 to 24 at the Grand Canyon, Arizona.

Experts Abandon Thought Of New Loan From U.S. To Help Britain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The issue of a new loan from the United States went into the discard by agreement today as top-ranking financial experts from both sides of the Atlantic assembled to hunt a partial solution to Britain's dollar crisis.

Sir Wilfrid Eady, head of the British delegation, said that so far as his country is concerned a new credit to supplement the almost-exhausted $3,750,000,000 advance of 1946 is "not on the agenda."

That made it mutual.

U.S. officials have emphasized they will talk about modifying the present loan agreement to relieve Britain's economic distress, but will go no farther.

ASK ABOUT SPENDING

And they said Treasury Secretary Snyder, chief U.S. negotiator, would enter the treasury's conference room to make these demands:

1. That Britain account for the spending which has drained all but $850,000,000 of the year-old drawing account, with its exhaustion foreseen this fall.

2. That she outline specific plans for balancing her budget, speeding production and achieving a balance of trade that will contribute to world-wide economic stability.

TO STUDY PROGRAM

Ultimately, the questions may probe into the soundness and security of the British program for nationalizing basic industries.

Sir Wilfrid evidently was ready with some of the answers. At New York Sunday night the special assistant to Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton told reporters:

"We have been running through the dollars faster than we expected when we negotiated the loan and we have come to discuss how it happened."

He added that his country planned to "stop expenditures and get more of our exports going so as to earn more foreign exchange.

"We are going to work our way through. I think we will get this thing steadied down in a matter of months and then you will see that we have been a good investment."

The U.S. delegation was reported to believe some minor changes are possible, but not any basic alteration. This would require approval by Congress.

3 Arrested After $100,000 Stolen From Safety Boxes

TORONTO (CP) — Three men were held for questioning by police in connection with a week-end robbery of the Dundas and Chestnut Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada on the edge of Chinatown here. Police suspected the "numbers gang" was involved in the robbery in which a hole was smashed through a wall and more than $100,000 in cash, jewelry and negotiable securities taken from safety deposit boxes.

The same gang has been held responsible by police for a number of other large bank robberies of the same type, including another in Toronto recently and the rifling of more than 70 safety deposit boxes in a bank branch at Carp, Ont., when more than $230,000 was taken.

Land On Glacier To Recover Body

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two Seattle pilots, Carl Brady and Veron Montgomery, today accomplished the first successful glacier landing by helicopter on Tiedemann Glacier on 13,260-foot Mount Waddington, in what is the final attempt to recover the frozen body of alpinist Charles Shiverick, Cleveland, Ohio, mountain climber fatally injured July 22. The landing was made under difficult conditions of hazardous air current at the upper 3,500-foot mountain level, which approaches the maximum operating ceiling of the 'copter.

Truck Driver Dies On Galiano Island

A truck driver for the Eagle Bay Logging Co. of Retreat Cove, Galiano Island, Ted Bemm, was instantly killed Saturday, when the guy-line on a load of logs broke. He was pinned to the ground by falling timber.

He is survived by his widow, Dor , and two children.

THE LESSON—

DAVID . . . a 10 year old boy was in the basement trying to get Jeff, his big airdale dog to forget his broken leg & eat. But Jeff only sniffed and refused. David was resentful of his new stepmother, and only that day, he too, had refused to eat her hot cookies. Mr. Fenton had offered $200 for Jeff, and was coming that day, but David said he wouldn't let him go for ANY amount. "Mr. Fenton told me that Jeff was one of the best dogs the army ever trained," sed his step-mother. "He sed he & Jeff went all thru the war together, & were in some pretty tough spots, and that on one occasion Jeff saved his life." Jeff tried to rise when Tom Fenton came down the basement steps, his stubby tail wagged & he tried to lift his head off his blanket. Then he licked Tom Fenton's face. He began at one side, worked away across his face to the other side, and licked his cheeks, his ears, and his neck. Tom Fenton didn't pull away. David swallowed the baseball in his throat, as Tom sed to the dog. "We got to B pretty good buddies out there, didn't we Jeff?" Jeff barked & licked his face again. Fenton sed . . . "what's this I hear about U not wanting to eat" and he took some of the food & held it in his hand. Jeff sniffed . . . then gulped it down. David brushed past and ran up-stairs. Misty-eyed he sed to his step-mother . . . "I guess Jeff just couldn't help learning to love Mr. Fenton" and he picked up one of the cookies and started to munch it, partly to cover up his tears. His step-mother's mouth tightened as she replied. "Yes . . . David . . . and it sometimes happens with human beings too." Then she smiled, and the lad returned her smile. It was a funny thing, but it didn't seem so hard to do now. "Could I have another one of these swell cookies . . . MOTHER????"

WALK ON A WILTON . . . received a limited shipment of 6 ft. 9 by 9 Wilton rugs . . . the practical kind with all-over designs . . . of better-grade at $75.

The beautiful and original furnishings of the above-noted Home were purchased entirely in Europe and represent one of the finest collections in the country. There are many exquisite pieces. The drawing-room suite is the finest the writer has ever seen, comprising 8 pieces in Rosewood, beautifully carved.

The Dining Suite is in Italian Walnut, very substantial and original.

The pictures are pleasing and well chosen. One in particular must be mentioned here, it is a large oblong of Flowers and Fruit by the Flemish Master, JAN BRUGEE.

The rugs are all Oriental and vary in size from small throws to large Carpets. Beautifully carved cabinets and tables. The china, silver and Bric-a-Brac are all that can be desired.

The gorgeous electric Crystal and Handwrought fixtures will be sold. Italian Wall tapestry and fine quality drapes.

Catalogues 25c are now available and may be obtained at the Auctioneer's Office, or at the residence on view days, Monday and Tuesday, August 25th and 26th.

Communist Station In Quebec Only Ham, Says Montreal Paper

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal Herald said today it learned from a "reliable informant" that the so-called "clandestine radio station" said to be disseminating Communist propaganda in northern Quebec is nothing more than the work of a "ham" operator.

While Quebec provincial police and Premier Maurice Duplessis, as Attorney-General of the province, stood pat on their refusal to give more facts in connection with the alleged discovery, private investigation has led to the report that the Red radio scare, while based on certain fact, has been grossly exaggerated, the paper said.

The Herald said it learned the original police report sent to Duplessis had specified that the station was operated by an amateur.

A senior police official, however, said the original complaint had come from Roland Beaudry, whom he identified as the owner of three northern Quebec radio stations. Beaudry, he said, had complained that the Red station was interfering with his set-up.

Beaudry, asked if he had lodged any complaint, said, "I know nothing about it. I owned the stations at Val d'Or, Rouyn and Amos for three years and during that time my engineers never reported anything like that to me."

Beaudry said he had sold out his share in the Northern Radio Co., Radio Rol Abitibi, Ltee., to Hector Authier, who is now major shareholder. Authier also said no complaint had been made by his company "at least not that I know of."

It is estimated that some engines in use on Canadian railways build up a milage of 16,000 miles in 30 days.

Market Off Recovery Route

NEW YORK (AP)—Attempts to keep the stock market on the recovery route generally were unsuccessful today, although scattered issues put up resistance, and selling pressure was lacking.

Dealings slowed after a fairly active opening and declines of fractions to a point or so ruled near the close.

Canadian issues at mid-day tended to ease. Dome Mines was off ⅝ and Canadian Pacific ⅛. Distillers Seagrams, however, was up ⅛.

"I see by the papers," said the Old Timer, "that some of the unions in Canada are starting to get rid of Communist domination—at least that's what they call it.

"Well, if I was a union man again, I'd be pretty suspicious of any Communist trying to get himself elected to office in my union. I don't believe any Communist ever works for anything but the interests of the Communist party. Sure they wil make themselves useful to a labor union, up to the point where they have grabbed control of it. After that the union serves the interests of the Communist party.

"The ordinary labor man backs his union to get sound collective bargaining—the best wages and best working conditions possible without putting the employer out of business. He is willing to recognize that bargaining is a two-way business. He doesn't want strikes. He'd rather be on friendly terms with the boss.

"But no Communist wants industrial peace and progress. His job is to create discontent and strife and trouble, getting the world ready for the revolution. So how can he represent the interests of the working man? It just doesn't make sense."

Activity In Secondary Golds

TORONTO (CP)—With heavy activity in secondary golds the Toronto Stock Exchange today had its first 1,000,000-share session since July 3.

Eldona, announcing a new underwriting agreement, set the pace, holding up about 14 points in trading over the 250,000 mark. Golds generally were on the upside, among the most active gainers being Apex, Donalda, Duvay and Sannorm.

Among the senior golds Aunor, Hallnor and Wright-Hargreaves posted gains.

Abitibi, Brown Co., Great Lakes Paper, Moore and Moore Pfd., and St. Lawrence were paper gainers.

Among western oils Globe advanced 5½ on more than 75,000 shares and Okalta held at 90.

Toronto closing index:

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP) — The United Kingdom took 200,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian contract in the only export business reported on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

In the rye futures market prices showed strength, reflecting unfavorable harvesting weather on the prairies and advances in American grain price levels, including a sharp upturn in Chicago corn.

CHICAGO (AP) — With offerings limited in all pits, grains pushed ahead for substantial gains on the board of trade today. Buying of corn and oats was based on continued dry weather in the midwest, while wheat was aided by a boost in the government purchasing price of cash grain.

Legation In Rome

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and Italy are exchanging ministers and opening legations in each other's caiptals, Prime Minister King announced Sunday night.

The Dominion's first minister in the one-time enemy country will be Jean Desy, 54-year-old Ambassador to Brazil. He will be designated as "Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary" with the personal rank of ambassador.

The move marks the first time in their history that Canada and Italy have exchanged diplomatic establishments, and it also makes Italy the first of Canada's enemies in the Second World War with whom she has joined in diplomatic relations.

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—A run-up in the Kaffirs section featured the stock exchange today. An early start was made by Cape buying, followed quickly by local support.

Dividend payers were the centre of attraction. British government securities were firm, demand for short-dated stocks leading to an all-around readjustment of prices.

Industrials remained quiet. Oils were firm at the close. Foreign bonds were quietly firmer while Brazilians, among foreign rails, improved.

Eric Dow Wins District Shield In Sailing Races

Pacific northwest district championship for lightning craft was won for the second year by Eric Dow of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club in three races held over the week-end.

First two races were held Saturday and the third and final one was sailed on Sunday. Only other club competing was Maple Bay Yacht Club.

Results were as follows: Ariel, Mr. Dow, 25 points; Ti-Time, Hunter Vogel, M.B.Y.C., 24 points; Iona, Grant McKinnon, R.V.R.C., 21½ points; Jolly Roger, Grant Hutt, M.B.Y.C., 18½ points; Vampire, B. Kennett, M.B.Y.C., 17 points; Lodo, G. Seymour, M.B.Y.C., 14 points; Ripples, W. Thomson, R.V.Y.C., 10 points; Harlequin, D Vogel, M.B.Y.C., eight points, and Hardtak, R. Fraser, R.V.Y.C., seven points

Mr McKinnon, in Iona won all three races, but a technical error lost him all his points in the second race, dropping him back to third place.

At the finish of the third race Sunday, a championship shield, donated by an R.V.Y.C. member, was presented to Mr. Dow by Commodore Dr. G. W. Bissett.

Early Sockeye Runs Journeying 500 Miles To Fraser Headwaters

Sockeye salmon now are working their way 500 miles up to the farthest reaches of the Fraser River, without having to contend with fishermen's nets.

By order of the international sockeye commission, the sockeye season for the Fraser River area, which usually opens in July, had been delayed a couple of months this year to permit the early runs of sockeye make their way up the river.

The fisheries commission is trying to build up the early runs of sockeye, which have been the worst depleted.

According to unofficial reports a considerable number of the fish have been making their way through Hell's Gate in the Fraser Canyon, using the ladders constructed during the past couple of years by the commission.

Because of the ban on sockeye catches, operators of the fish traps at Sooke have had to release all sockeye taken along with other salmon.

According to provincial fisheries department officials, the sockeye runs in the Skeena have been poor this year while the runs into the Naas River have been about normal. For three years officials have been studying the depletion of the Skeena sockeye runs but it is expected another two years will be necessary to complete the study.

Despite the poor Skeena sockeye runs, the sockeye catches for the whole of the coast have been better this year than last, although they have fallen short of the 1945 total.

Forest Fires Reported At Record Low This Year

Provincial forest protection officials, reporting this had been the finest fire season to date British Columbia had ever experienced, reported one minor fire in the Vancouver forest district today.

The blaze, on which only two men are working, is in the Comox district. It is the only fire reported since Saturday in the Vancouver forest district which includes all Vancouver Island.

While the forest fire hazard this year has been at a record minimum, forest protection officers are still keeping their fingers crossed for the hazard might increase rapidly with a hot dry spell of weather.

No major forest closures, which sometimes close up operations in the woods for weeks at a time, have been effected this year.

Comment Withheld

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace and 10 Downing St. declined comment today on the New York Mirror's report that Queen Mother Mary received the Duchess of Windsor during the Windsors' last visit to England.

BURNS MEMORIALS

SCOTS THE WORLD over must have been greatly interested in the recent announcement of a project to erect a Burns Memorial Theatre at Ayr, Scotland, to rival the world-famed Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

Oddly enough, the movement has been launched, not by a Scot, but by "Billy" Butlin, erstwhile American who, before the war, founded a chain of luxury holiday camps in Britain.

And has since been reviving them on a popular scale, complete with highly organized and regimented recreational and entertainment programs.

And if one can believe all one reads about him, Mr. Butlin is a man of such initiative and push that the success of the Burns Memorial Theatre is already assured.

TWO-SCORE MONUMENTS

ACCORDING TO A RECENT article in the Manchester Guardian, there have been listed over two score monuments to the poet throughout the world.

Of these, fourteen are statues in Scotland, three in England, one in Ireland, three in Canada, no less than five in Australia, and the rest in the United States.

Most of these are of comparatively recent date. For a century ago there were only three known memorials to the Scotsman who died in 1796. All were in Scotland, one being at Alloway, his birthplace, one at Dumfries and one at Edinburgh.

And it was not until the erection of a monument in Glasgow in 1877 that the Burns memorial movement was really launched throughout the world.

AN APOLOGIA

APROPOS OF THE LATEST project, the London Free Press in a recent editorial made this reference to our Burns statue in Beacon Hill Park:

"Some time ago we stated our belief that the only Canadian monuments to Robert Burns were to be found in Montreal and Toronto, where ardent and generous sons and daughters of Scotland had seen to it that the memory of their great bard was suitably honored.

"Now, however, we are informed by a solicitous reader that we were at least one-third in error. He has just returned from Victoria, where he came upon a handsome monument to Burns in one of the public parks.

"This is an occasion on which it is a joy to be culpable for we believe the Ayrshire plowman to be worthy of a monument in every community where the English language is spoken and the faith and creed of liberal democracy are treasured and upheld."

FIRST IN CANADA

THAT REFERENCE TO OUR local monument led me to do a little research into the past. And I find that the Victoria memorial was the first erected to Burns in Canada.

It was in 1896 that the Sir William Wallace Society of Victoria decided thus to honor Burns, and invited the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society to co-oper
